CANADA'S GREAT TRADE INCREASE

Six Months Ending with September, Show Growth of Forty Millions Over Same Period in 1910

AMERICAN FIRMS MAKE INQUIRIES

Will Establish Branch Factories in the Dominion as a Result of Recent Defeat of Reciprocity

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 23.—During September, 1911, the total trade was $69,868,429 as against $64,459,495 in September, 1910. For the six months ending September 30, 1911, the total trade was $400,270,855 as against $360,277,276 for the same period in 1910.

The imports during September, 1911, were $43,378,164 as against $38,863,682 in September, 1910. The imports for the six months were $258,406,094 as against $223,466,647 in 1910.

The domestic exports during the six months were $129,606,982 and foreign exports $12,257,779 as against $127,525,432 and $9,285,197 respectively last year.

Since the election the customs department is receiving brisk inquiries about the valuation of plants from American firms intending to establish branch factories in Canada. While reciprocity was pending these inquiries almost ceased.

Will Second Address

QUEBEC, Que., Oct. 23.—Mr. Albert Sevigny, M. P. for Dorchester, has been invited by Premier Borden to second in French the address of the lower house in answer to the speech from the throne, at the opening of the new parliament in November next and he has accepted.

JEWELRY MERGER

Firms Capitalized at $5,000,000 Amalgamate to Control Canadian Trade

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—The latest Canadian merger is the Jewellers' amalgamation, which aims at the consolidation of the Canadian jewelry trade, both manufacturing and retail. The new merger is to be called the Canadian Jewellers', Limited, and has already secured a charter from the federal authorities. The authorized capitalization is $5,000,000, one-half of which is to be preferred stock at seven per cent. and the other half common stock. The amalgamation will have manufacturing establishments in Montreal, Toronto, and in the eastern townships and a string of some sixty retail stores stretching across the Dominion. Nine establishments are said to be already included, among them being the William Brattley, Heming Manufacturing company, and the Hemsley Manufacturing company, all of Montreal; J. E. Brown and Co. of Toronto and three other Toronto firms, one Montreal firm and one firm in the eastern townships.

RACE RIOT IN U. S. A.

Wagonloads of Firearms Secreted by Oklahoma Negroes

COWETA, Okla., Oct. 23.—Search of places frequented by negroes today disclosed firearms hidden in almost every conceivable place and manner. Two wagonloads of guns, knives and ammunition were taken in charge by officers. While the town is quiet under military protection after the riots of yesterday, in which two were killed and four wounded, citizens still fear trouble.

From Red Bird, a negro settlement six miles away, come reports that the blacks are in an ugly mood and threaten to march upon Coweta. Citizens heavily armed are helping the soldiers to keep a close lookout at every point the blacks might enter the town in force.

Twenty negroes were arrested and taken to Wagoner today.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 23.—Carmen Oliver, who was shot through the abdomen during the race riots at Coweta Sunday, died at the Baptist hospital here early this morning. Oliver's death is the third resulting from the riots.

WOMEN JURORS COMPLAIN

Object to Men Deliberating With Them Indulging in Smoking

SEATTLE, Oct. 23.—The women voters' council today memorialized the county commissioners for relief from the inconvenience caused women doing duty of jurors by men of the jury who insist on smoking their pipes in the jury room. Eight women jurors have served during the current month, though with some inconvenience to themselves because of the smoke of which complaint is made. It was represented to the commissioners that on every jury there are two or three men who insist on smoking during the deliberations.

"I can't argue unless I can see my opponent," said a woman juror. "The jury room has been so thick with smoke on several occasions that I couldn't see my nearest neighbor."

All night sessions with the jurors reclining in comfortable chairs tilted back against the walls are objected to by the women. It is contended that the county should provide a separate jury room for the women where they could recline comfortably until morning. Women bailiffs to wait upon the female jurors are also asked. The memorial will be considered by the commissioners tomorrow.

Patsy Kline Wins

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Patsy Kline, the New Jersey featherweight, knocked out Joe Coster, of Brooklyn, with a right to the jaw in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout here tonight. Kline carried the fighting to Coster from the first sound of the gong, putting the Brooklynite to the floor for nine seconds in the first round.

HUNTERS RECEIVE SERIOUS WOUNDS

Charles Watkin Loses an Arm and A. L. Partington Has Side Torn, in Different Duck Shooting Accidents

Two shooting accidents, both of them of a serious nature, occurred yesterday afternoon. In both instances the victims were in row-boats engaged in the quest of ducks when the mishaps occurred.

A. L. Partington, of Spring Ridge, received a charge of buckshot in his back, the bullets fortunately being turned aside in such a way as to prevent a mortal wound. He is a young man of about 25 years of age and is at the Jubilee hospital under the care of Dr. Nelson, who reported last night that he is doing well. In the other case Charlie Watkin, a lad of 17 years, had his left arm so badly mutilated with shot that it was necessary for Dr. Hart, who was called, to amputate it with as little delay as possible.

With R. Neill, his companion, Partington secured a boat from the Oak Bay club early in the afternoon. They explained that it was their intention to endeavor to kill a few ducks. They left in a southerly direction towards Cadboro Bay, skirting the shore in the hope of discovering flocks feeding in the small bays of the coast. They had been out, from what can be learned, about an hour and a half when the accident took place. A gun, cocked and ready for action, was lying in the bottom of the boat, and Partington was turned away from its muzzle when a sudden movement caused the hammer to fall. The charge struck him in the right side, tearing away the muscles. His friend did what was possible to stop the flow of blood and the tug Shamrock, which happened along, was hailed. She towed the duck-boat into Oak Bay, where a conveyance was secured. In this the disabled man was taken to the Jubilee hospital. It is believed that he will recover.

The accident to Master Watkin occurred earlier in the day. He and a companion, whose name has not been disclosed, started from the city in a small boat to do some duck shooting between Trial Island and the shore. At about 12.30 they decided to make a landing at Shoal Bay. Watkin, who admits being a novice in the handling of firearms, grasped his loaded gun by the barrel, close to the muzzle and was dragging it from the craft when the trigger caught and, exploding the cartridge, the flesh of his arm was torn to shreds, while the bones were shattered in many places. An automobile was hurried to the scene and the young man was taken to St. Joseph hospital. A hasty examination by Dr. Hart proved that amputation was absolutely necessary and the operation was performed forthwith. The unfortunate lad, whose people reside near the corner of Yates and Quadra streets, is said to be doing as well as could be expected.

REVOLUTION IS GAINING GROUND

Reports that Risings are Planned in Vicinity of Peking—Manchus Pursue Vacillating Policy

OUTBREAK FEARED IN NORTHERN PROVINCES

Newspapers Publish Reports of Rebel Victories that Have Not Been Attained—War Minister's Policy

PEKING, Oct. 23.—The revolutionary spirit is now manifesting itself in the northwest as well as in the south. Those who heretofore have believed the northern provinces might rally around the government are now of the opinion that secessions will follow in rapid succession.

The precautionary measures taken in Manchuria, where the government does not permit mention of the revolution, show the anti-government spirit in the far north.

There are persistent reports that risings have been planned for the next few days in the immediate vicinity of the capital. It may be that these will not be fulfilled, but they indicate widespread sympathy with the revolt.

The diplomatic corps has discussed the necessity of maintaining communication between Tien Tsin and Peking. The military commanders report only sufficient troops to protect the legation quarter in Peking and the foreign settlement in Tien Tsin, which number approximately 1,000, and 3,200 respectively. Consequently in a serious emergency only Japanese would be immediately available from the garrisons at Port Arthur and Dalny. As yet the legations have not considered seriously the suggestion of an English newspaper in Shanghai that the Manchus, when desperate, might endeavor secretly to encourage the ignorant multitude to attack foreigners and thereby attain foreign intervention which would militate in their favor, they being the only established dynasty. It is argued that such machinations would prove more dangerous to the Manchus than to any one else, because it is known that the rebel organization elsewhere is able to restrain its adherents. The Manchus, however, apparently are following a weak and vacillating policy which conceivably might bring about desperate measures. A prominent Chinese official of western education, in discussing this possibility, gave it to be understood that precautions against such a manoeuvre would not be overlooked.

PREPARING FOR ONTARIO FIGHT

Candidates in Provincial Contest are Selected at Nominating Conventions Held at Week End

NOMINEE OF SOUTH BRANT LIBERALS

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—Conventions to nominate candidates for the Ontario legislature were held in a number of ridings on Saturday.

West Peterboro Liberals chose R. R. Hall, ex-M. P., to contest the riding. Hon. J. R. Stratton, ex-M. P., and G. M. Gordon were nominated but retired.

In South Wellington the Liberals nominated J. Innes McIntosh, proprietor of the Guelph Mercury. Mr. McIntosh, after working on the Woodstock Review and Toronto Globe, was private secretary to Hon. J. M. Gibson before taking over the Mercury fourteen years ago.

Frontenac Conservatives turned down their present member, G. S. Gallagher, M. P. P., and on the fourth ballot nominated A. M. Rankin, Reeve of Kingston township, by 21 majority over Mr. Gallagher.

Peel Conservatives unanimously renominated Sam Charters, M. P. P.

South Brant Liberals on Saturday night nominated Ald. Morgan, E. Harris for the legislature. He is a brother to Lloyd Harris, the Liberal member who broke with the Laurier government on the reciprocity issue.

East York Conservatives will meet next Saturday. James Henry, reeve of York township, and [illegible] are

CONSERVATIVE IN YUKON TERRITORY

DAWSON, Y. T., Oct. 23.—Dr. Alfred Thompson, Conservative candidate, was elected today by a majority of 400 over Mr. F. T. Congdon, his Liberal opponent, for the federal house. Mr. Thompson polled 1,128, while Mr. Congdon polled 736 votes. Mr. Congdon carried only Grand Forks and Bear. Nine small polls still to hear from will increase the majority for Mr. Thompson.

ARRESTS FOLLOW FIRE

Ledger Keeper and Teller of Winnipeg Bank in Durance

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 23.—Tonight John K. McLeod, ledger keeper, and Gordon T. Nagle, teller of the Selkirk avenue branch of the Union bank, were arrested. On Friday morning at 1 o'clock a small fire was discovered in the bank, and an investigation showed it was in two places, and that the books of the bank were burning. An audit on Saturday and today showed a shortage of $5,000, and the entire staff was suspended, and the two arrests were made.

Action Averts Disaster.

TOULON, Oct. 23.—A repetition of the Liberte disaster was probably averted today by the presence of mind of the commander of the battleship Suffran. As the vessel was preparing to leave here, escaping steam overheated the partitions between the coal bunkers and the magazines, causing an outbreak of fire. The commander without delay flooded the magazines and extinguished the flames.

ORVILLE WRIGHT NEAR DISASTER

Famous Aviator's Machine Turns Turtle — Occupant Saves Himself by Nimble Work in Air

KILL DEVIL HILL, N. C., Oct. 23.—Orville Wright had a narrow escape today when his glider turned over in the air and dashed to the ground. The machine was disabled, but can be repaired for flights tomorrow or Wednesday. Wright was slightly shaken up. Today's accident was the second with which the machine has met. Wright had made one short glide, and was essaying a second when the glider began to turn turtle slowly. The aviator scrambled nimbly over the machine as it turned, and was on top of it when it dived to earth, bottom side up.

To make travel in the air as safe as on the earth is the purpose of the experiments the Wright brothers are conducting. They are working on their new mechanism designed to keep an aeroplane on an even keel. The Wrights began their work on this problem before 1907. What they have accomplished, if anything, both Orville and Wilbur are keeping in characteristic secrecy. It is expected that their newest mechanism will be sent here and tried on the glider. In some respects the Wright contrivance is said to resemble the aileron device used on the Curtiss biplane and some of the foreign machines. Ailerons are small flaps attached to the main plane. When a tricky gust tilts an aeroplane out of balance, one of the ailerons flops downward while another flops upward. That makes a difference in the air resistance, and helps the aeroplane to settle back to a level.

The device the Wright brothers may try is said to apply this principle with the use of a pendulum hanging into space below the aeroplane. The law of gravity is expected to keep the pendulum hanging straight downward. The upper end of the pendulum rod will be connected with the ailerons, and as the aeroplane dips from side to side, gravity will cause the pendulum to swing. The swinging of the pendulum is depended upon to operate the ailerons up and down and to restore stability.

Until recently all birdmen have looked upon automatic balancing devices with disfavor. It is said that none of them had ever worked quickly enough to restore the balance of an aeroplane after it has lost its equilibrium. A fatal gust of wind, it is said, would do its work in less than the fraction of a second which the stability device requires to operate. In many cases, hand control has been quick as the wind, and has even anticipated its action, according to the experience and alertness of the aviator.

Cross Continent Flight

BANNING, Cal., Oct. 23.—Robert G. Fowler, the aviator who is now making his second attempt to fly across the continent, and who had a narrow escape today with a defective motor, probably will fly tomorrow. For a time today it was thought the trip eastward would have to be postponed for several days until a new motor could be procured from Yuma, where Fowler had sent it on ahead. The motor, however, was received late today, and Fowler and the mechanics [illegible] all night in an effort to install the new machine. FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Veteran of American Civil War Aged 92, Awaits Sentence for Killing of Man at Hastings

WAS TRIED ON A CHARGE OF MURDER

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 23.—John Taylor Channel, a veteran of the American Civil war, aged 92, was tried for murder at the assize court here today but the jury found that he was guilty only of manslaughter and the judge deferred sentence. Channel was alleged to have killed a man named McCutcheon who visited his shack at Hastings in company with a man and woman. Most of the party were drunk and a quarrel arose during which Channel ordered McCutcheon out of the shack. Channel stated when examined on his own behalf that a struggle for the gun took place and the weapon went off, wounding McCutcheon fatally. Evidence was given that Channel's character previously had been irreproachable.

CONTINENTAL WIRELESS

Mare Island Stations in Communication With Washington, D. C.

VALLEJO, Cal., Oct. 23.—The Mare Island wireless station which on September 26 broke the daylight record on this coast by talking with Unalaska, carried on a conversation with Washington, D. C., early today. The Mare Island operator heard Key West, Fla., calling Cape Cod, and when Mare Island attempted to call Key West it was answered by Washington. The operators were exchanging weather reports when interference ended the conversation. Mare Island talked last year with Key West, 2700 miles distant.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Oct. 23.—A wireless conversation between naval stations at Colon, Panama, and Key West, Fla., was caught here at a small private station maintained by J. O. Mauborgue, first lieutenant, Third Infantry, who is instructor in charge of the army wireless station. Lieutenant Mauborgue in making the announcement today said that his aerial is only forty feet high. Considering the apparatus, the receiving of a message over such a distance, 2300 miles, is a record in wireless history and a demonstration of the remarkable efficiency of the army's field wireless apparatus.

SPOKANE, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Ida K. Johnson, niece of R. A. Ballinger, former secretary of the interior, today received a decree of divorce in the upper court here, from Bertram A. Her father is Judge Ballinger's brother and her brother, John Ballinger, is a law partner of the former secretary in Seattle.

She applied for a mandamus but the judge now holds he cannot grant her application.

MINERS' WAGE SCHEDULE

Workers in Nova Scotia Alleged Not to Have Received Increases Given Elsewhere

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 23.—Some days ago the P. W. A. at a meeting of the grand council appointed a committee to draw up a wage schedule for miners of Nova Scotia on the lines of the 1907 schedule. The different locals were authorized to enter into an agreement with the mining companies on the basis of that government.

The United Mine Workers' executive office of Nova Scotia now comes out with a proclamation addressed to all mine workers of Nova Scotia in which they refuse to be bound by the proposed P. W. A. arrangement and protest against such an agreement being entered into. They allege as reasons for this that the P. W. A. was voted out of existence by its own members three years ago, that there have been two general increases in wages to the organized mine workers of North America, while the men of Nova Scotia have received no general increase, that all present contracts between mine workers and operators in North America terminate on March 31, 1912, at which time all mine workers of the country will present demands for increased wages and better working conditions.

Victims of Gas in Illinois Mine Disaster are Resuscitated After Their Removal to Hospital

HUNDREDS ABOUT TO GO INTO WORKINGS

Calamity Might Have Been Terrible Had Time of Occurrence Not Been Changing of Shifts

HARRISBURG, Ill., Oct. 23.—Eight miners were killed and eight others were temporarily overcome by an explosion of powder in the O'Gara mine a mile from here, today. The dead and the miners who were unconscious were removed from the mine by rescuers three of whom were overcome by gas. They were resuscitated at a hospital.

The explosion occurred as the shifts were changing. Only sixteen men were in the north entry, where the explosion occurred. Three hundred and sixty men had reported for work but all had not gone into the workings.

At the local office of the mine it was stated that it was not definitely known what caused the explosion.

"Starvation Doctor"

SEATTLE, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, known as the "starvation doctor," lost a point in the hearing to compel her to make an accounting of her guardianship of the estate of Claire Williamson, the English spinster whom Mrs. Hazzard is accused of having starved to death, when Judge Lester Still overruled today a motion to dismiss the proceedings. The most important evidence adduced at today's hearing was the testimony of a banker that he had cashed for Mrs. Hazzard a check for $110 drawn by Dorothea Williamson and that the money had been deposited in Mrs. Hazzard's name. Mrs. Hazzard had previously declared that she had given the money to Mrs. Williamson.

DROWNED IN SIGHT OF HIS COMPANIONS

Son of Mr. A. A. Sears Falls from Sidney Wharf—After Long Search the Body is Found

While playing with a number of companions on the V. & S. railway wharf on Saturday afternoon Albert Avard Sears, the ten-year-old son of Mr. A. A. Sears, former master of the steamer Iroquois, fell into the water and despite the efforts of some of his playmates and others was washed out by the tide and drowned. All night Saturday dragging for the body was kept up and proved successful about 10.30 o'clock Sunday morning. The body was brought into the city and the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. J. E. Phillips, 824 View street.

The lad fell from the wharf without warning. His companions secured a rope which they threw to him, but though he could swim he was so encumbered by his clothing that he could not make his way back to the wharf piling. A man hearing the cries of the boys ran to the wharf and securing the rope and making a noose at the end threw the loop over the struggling boy's head, but the rope slipped off and before it could be thrown again young Sears sank. The body now lies at the undertaking rooms of Messrs. Hanna & Thomson, Yates street. On investigating the circumstances of the drowning Coroner Hart decided an inquest was unnecessary.

tion of the censorship, whether from venality or sympathy on the part of the police is not known. The newspapers publish reports of rebel victories which have not yet been attained, and of government calamities more serious than have yet been suffered, and in so doing they are displaying a greater degree of temerity than usual.

General Ying Tchang, the war minister, seems to have pushed his troops through the passes on the Honan-Hupeh border without resistance. Some, therefore, are of the opinion that he intends to attack promptly. He has, however, fewer troops under his command than heretofore was supposed. It is not generally believed that he has above 15,000 of which only two battalions are Manchus. They are guarding the railway in the rear. Other troops intended for the Hankow campaign have not been sent, owing to the fear of their desertion. There was also necessity for the retention of a strong force near Peking.

The British and American attaches left here for Shanghai yesterday, intending to proceed to Hankow up the Yangtse Kiang. It is believed that Yin Tchang, Manchu-like, desires to give battle, although the half-hearted spirit of his troops may deter him. On the other hand, Yuan Shi Kai, Chinese-like, is temporizing with the rebels. Yuan Shi Kai has refused to leave Changte in the special car which has been sent for him, but there is evidence that he has dispatched trusted adherents of former days as emissaries to the rebel leaders. It is believed he is endeavoring to reach a compromise between the rebels and the throne on the basis of immediate constitutional government. The foreign customs commission at Changsha has telegraphed the inspector-general of customs here that the city has revolted. The officers were killed and the viceroy fled. The foreign customs' men took refuge in the river boats. It is said officially that the diplomatic body has informed the Chinese government that it is unable to reply on the subject of indemnities, which is so complicated and important that China had better approach the individual governments direct.

Sir Edward Strachey, parliamentary secretary of the board of agriculture, and the Rt. Hon. Alfred Emmet, M. P., for Oldham, and deputy speaker of the house of commons, have been promoted to peerages.

With the exception of the exchange of offices by Mr. Churchill and Mr. McKenna, the cabinet shuffle caused little comment. The Unionists express fear that the change will enable the government to reduce the naval estimates, Mr. Churchill being considered one of the economists of the cabinet. The exchange, however, is more likely to have been due to parliamentary than to political causes. Both ministers have met with the disapproval of the laborites and the extreme radicals, Mr. Churchill by reason of the employment of troops during the strikes and Mr. McKenna because of a recent speech advocating a further increase in the naval expenditures. By the exchange both escape the necessity of replying to their critics.

CHARGES OF CORRUPTION

[illegible] Denies He Had Anything to Do With Election of Senator Stephenson

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 23.—Edward Hines, the lumberman, denied today before the senatorial investigating committee that he had anything to do with the election of Senator Isaac Stephenson. Mr. Hines' denials covered the following: That he went to Washington and there told Senator Stephenson that because of charges of corruption the senator could not be re-elected. That to overcome this obstacle he entered in an agreement whereby he and Stephenson each contributed $55,000 which resulted in an election by the Wisconsin legislature on March 4, 1909, after three democratic assemblymen had absented themselves. That he paid Robert Shields $7,500 to help "put over" the election.

"Did you ever assist in or receive any benefits from the election of Senator Stephenson?" Mr. Hines was asked by Chairman Heyburn.

"Never, nor did I ever make or receive any promises in that regard. I was interested to a small extent in his campaign in the primaries. This was simply to ask Shields to induce some businessmen to sign a kind of appeal to the public to support the senator because of his standing as a businessman in the state."

Hines declared that much of the story as given to the committee by Wirt and Cook of Duluth was due to business reasons. He said Cook had written a letter threatening to "expose" him if he (Hines) did not withdraw as a director from a company in which both were interested. Hines also denied part of a conversation attributed to him by Cook at a hotel in Chicago, in which Hines was reported to have said: "I have had a terrible time getting Stephenson lined up. After I elected him, he goes down to Washington and votes for free lumber, and he is a lumberman, too."

Hines had read into the record a letter in which he said Cook declared, because of Hines' prominence in the Lorimer case, he ought to withdraw from a certain company. Hines said he did not withdraw and the testimony of Cook followed.

The committee endeavored to trace the source of the charges implicating Hines and Shields. The development of this phase of the investigation, as shown by the record, was: "John Brady, a Duluth hotel clerk, now dead, said he overheard two men, unknown to him, 'joshing' about Hines and Shields' work in Stephenson's behalf. Then Brady told Daniel Haley, Cook's partner, and Haley told Cook, and Cook told Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris, and Morris told the investigating committee."

Going over the record, the committee found that Cook had denied part of what Morris said, and Haley varied from what Cook had said, and as Brady, the hotel clerk, was dead, no information could be had as to the identity of the two men who were held responsible for the original report.

Another feature of today's session was an admission by Assemblyman Joseph A. Domaschowski, that the charge that he was offered a bribe of $1,500 to remain away from the legislature at the time of Stephenson's election was a joke.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

U. S. Commission to Recommend Plan Which Obtains in Great Britain

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The employers' liability and workmen's compensation commission practically decided today to recommend the enactment of a law providing for the insurance of employees of inter-state railroads against injury by accident by requiring the roads to make payments for any injury inflicted. No binding vote was taken, but it was admitted that the commissioners were unanimously favorable to the direct payment plan and to confining the operation of the proposed law to employers or roads engaged in inter-state commerce only.

The plan adopted prevails in Great Britain and requires direct payment from the employer to an injured employee.

NEW SECRETARY LETHBRIDGE MAN

Mr. E. M. Thomasson Has Been Appointed to Succeed Rev. A. J. Brace on Staff of Local Y. M. C. A.

The appointment has been announced of Mr. E. M. Thomasson, present secretary of the Lethbridge Y. M. C. A. to succeed Rev. A. J. Brace, as secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. The appointment was made by the board of directors a few days ago, but it was not announced until yesterday. Mr. Thommasson was in the city for a day last week, at which time he met the board and accepted the position. He is expected to be in the city again for a few days this week, but will not permanently assume his new duties until about November 20.

Mr. Thomasson is a former member of the provincial committee of Ontario and Quebec and is a man with considerable experience in the work of the Y. M. C. A. During the past five years Mr. Thomasson has been instrumental in carrying along a great work in the Lethbridge "Y" and comes to this city highly recommended. That he will make a success of the local secretaryship the officials have not a doubt.

ON THE CIRCLE

President Taft Defines His Attitude on Tariff Vetoes

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 23.—The republican regulars and insurgents of South Dakota joined forces today to make President Taft's last day in the state pleasant. The truce was more or less armed, however, for the insurgents on the president's special train did not hesitate to declare that if Mr. Taft got any delegates at all from South Dakota, he "would have to fight mighty hard for them." The regulars on the other hand declared that the estimate of four out of the ten delegates for Mr. Taft was too low, and that there would be some surprises in the state next year.

During the run from Pierre, to Aberdeen today with a score of stops this morning, the president found big and apparently friendly crowds awaiting him. He discussed tariff vetoes, peace and arbitration, economy in the administration of affairs at Washington and the relation of government to business. His principal tariff speech of the day was delivered at Huron. The crowd there listened in silence to the president's explanation of his three vetoes. There was every evidence of interest among his hearers, but no applause until he declared that until congress had the facts upon which to base changes in the tariff laws he would continue to veto such a bill.

Military Concentration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—After a month's tour in the west, Secretary Stimson and Major General Wood have returned to Washington. They made a flying trip along the Mexican border, inspecting army posts, as far as Prescott, Ariz. Secretary Stimson and General Wood said the trip confirmed their belief that sound army policies required the concentration of troops in large posts and the abandonment of the many small western forts. It was decided that nearly all the troops now in the southwest over and above the normal garrisons of the posts, including the troops ordered thither in connection with the formation of the manoeuvre division should be removed forthwith. Orders probably will be issued for the return of most of these troops to their posts, though some of the men must go to Hawaii and the Isthmus to form the permanent garrisons there. The Twenty-eighth infantry will return to Fort Snelling, Minn., and the Sixth cavalry to Fort Meade.

U. S. Supreme Court Rules.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The supreme court of the United States promulgated new rules for its procedure today, designed to avoid clogging of the docket, which had resulted in cases being two or three years in court before they can be taken up for consideration. After arguments had been completed in a case involving the legality of railroads combining to regulate traffic across the Mississippi river at St. Louis, attorneys began the argument of the appeal of Frederick A. Hyde and Joost H. Schneider, from their conviction of conspiracy to defraud the government out of land on the Pacific coast. "Am I the first victim?" inquired A. S. Worthington, attorney for the defendants, as he began the argument. He was referring to the new rules. The chief assured him that he was. Consequently only three hours were allotted to the argument of the case, instead of four.

Want Treaty Abrogated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Plans for a nation-wide agitation for the abrogation of the treaty of 1832 with Russia, because of that country's refusal to honor without discrimination the passports issued by the United States, were formulated late today at a meeting of the executive committee of the National Citizens' committee of which William G. McAdoo is chairman. An appeal was drawn up and will be sent to leading citizens of the country, calling upon them to demand of their representatives in congress summary abrogation of the treaty. The first of that series of mass meetings to be held in every large city of the land will be held in Carnegie hall on Dec. 6, when congressmen, senators and business men will speak on the passport question.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN CIVIC TANGLE

Additional Charges by Mayor Will be Answered by Engineer—In Meantime Civic Departments Suffer from Strife

The seemingly interminable clash between the mayor and the council promises to be even more accentuated at tonight's meeting of the city council when once again his worship's allegations of incompetency in the city engineer's department will form the piece de resistance of the session. The engineer having answered the first instalment of the mayor's arraignment, an arraignment which seems to emanate from the mayor in sections, must again be placed on his defence in relation to the charge levied that because of unnecessary work in the way of trenching on certain streets whereon sewer and surface drains were laid, uncalled for expense was incurred. The mayor claims this work could have been completed by the use of one trench whereas two separate trenches were blasted. The engineer will have his reply to this charge ready for tonight's meeting.

In the meantime the work of the engineer's department has been severely handicapped by reason of the fact that Mr. Smith has been forced to devote so much time in preparing his replies which have necessitated looking up of records, etc., and presenting the information in proper form.

Then the veto of the mayor exercised to stop the carrying out of the council's decision that the $30,000 voted by the ratepayers for alterations to the market building to make it suitable for police quarters, should be so expended, will again bring up a contentious subject over which some warm passages are expected. The resolution authorizing the expenditure will be returned to the council which, under the rules as laid down by the Municipal Clauses Act, may again pass it by a majority of the council whereupon the mayor's veto will be of no force or effect.

A Different Meaning

At the last meeting of the council Mayor Morley submitted a letter from Chief of Police Langley to the effect that certain temporary alterations suggested by the mayor would render the present headquarters sufficient for police purposes for some months. The mayor construed the chief's letter to mean the alterations would do until the new civic centre, if the ratepayers decide there shall be one, is completed. On the other hand the chief claims that he meant that such repairs would do until such time as the market building can be put in condition for police headquarters.

Considerable interest has been exhibited in city hall circles over the entry into the present civic tangle of Mr. J. W. Astley of Winnipeg, whom the council recently decided should not be appointed engineer of construction here though his claims to the position were so earnestly advanced by Mayor Morley. Mr. Astley threatened to bring action against City Engineer Smith for defamation of character, because, as he alleges, the engineer when declaring he was no slave driver and would always treat his employees as men, had made use of the expression that he was sure the city did not desire "a man of Mr. Astley's characteristics and that he (the engineer) had been two years getting rid of men of Mr. Astley's stamp and characteristics."

This threat of Mr. Astley's does not appear to be worrying the city engineer to any great extent and, it is said, Mr. Smith has secured the opinion of counsel which is to the effect that Mr. Astley may be allowed to seek such reparation through legal means as he may desire.

MANY ATTRACTED TO ISLAND FARMS

Vancouver Island Development League Busy Locating Ranches and Disseminating Information

Of the large number of enquiries which are daily pouring into the office of the Vancouver Island Development League, there are a great many which request information regarding chicken and fruit farming, in and about Victoria. These open air occupations have apparently appealed to many who are stating their intentions of entering upon one or the other providing suitable farms can be obtained. The league is not only asked by writers to furnish information of such, but is also requested to obtain if possible, pieces of land which would be suitable for small farms, and has recently succeeded in placing several newcomers in business.

The latest arrival who came to this vicinity at the instigation of the league, was a former Toronto citizen. He felt that a change from the bustling life of the city to the open life of the country would be beneficial to himself and family. He has purchased three acres of land in the Cedar Hill district, and is starting the life of the chicken farmer with 500 hens. During the short time he has been on the island, he has become so infatuated with his new home that he has written to his father in Toronto, persuading him to leave the Queen city and commence farming, promising to obtain for him another small tract of land nearby. There are now a good number of chicken ranchers, and if the number continues to increase as it has during the past few months, citizens will be able to enjoy an egg for breakfast and a chicken twice a year without mortgaging their homes.

A recent visitor at the office of the league, an English philanthropist, was most eulogistic in his remarks of the Malahat drive, one of the island's scenic wonders. This gentleman told the secretary that he had traversed thirteen countries of Europe and in his opinion, had seen nothing that would equal the Malahat drive as a scenic marvel.

It is generally understood, although not officially stated, that this year's annual meeting of the Development league will be held in this city. That it will be held sometime during the month of November is a probability, but the exact date is withheld pending the outcome of the new E. & N. extension from this city to Port Alberni. It is hoped and expected that this piece of railroad will be completed ere long, and its completion would mean that a great many people could with very little trouble, attend the meetings in the city. The new line will enable people from Banfield, Ucluelet, Clayoquot, Nootka, Quatsino, Holberg, Alberni and Port Alberni, to come direct from Port Alberni after having reached there on the Tees.

Old Ladies' Home Tea.—At the tea, sale and concert which will be given on Nov. 1st in the Old Ladies' Home, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Paterson, Premier and Mrs. Richard McBride and Mayor and Mrs. Morley have consented to be patrons. Plowright's orchestra will play during the evening. It is intended that this shall surpass any entertainment given in aid of the old ladies and it is hoped there will be a correspondingly large attendance.

Horticultural Meeting.—The Victoria Horticultural society will meet at the Alexandra club on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

According to the census figures, Vancouver's population advanced 216 per cent. during the past decade.

Premier McBride was unable to accept the invitation tendered him to attend and formally open the proceedings of the Laymen's Missionary Conference at Vancouver.

FORM CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION THERE

Meeting at Duncan Well Attended—Speeches Delivered and Officers Elected

A public meeting was held in the Agricultural hall, Duncan, on Friday afternoon in the interests of the Conservative cause. The attendance was very representative of the Cowichan district and Mr. Shepherd, member for the Nanaimo electoral district, and Mr. W. H. Hayward, M.P.P., were the chief speakers.

Mr. Hayward was voted to the chair and explained the object of the meeting, which was to form a Conservative association and appoint officers to carry out the executive work of the association.

Mr. Hayward was appointed president of the association and Mr. Alexander Blyth vice-president, with the following gentlemen to act as their executive committee: Messrs. Frank Price, David Alexander, I. H. Whittome, Seymour-Green, T. Pitt, J. T. Pearce, Major Barnes, H. W. May, A. Averill, Dr. Price, W. H. Stuart, A. Nightingale, Col. Eardley-Wilmot, A. H. Lomas, Major Hodgins, T. Castley, H. D. Evans, Allan Mutter, Horace Davie, Capt. Clive Phillip-Wolley, Roe Gibbs, W. Cranko, J. Monk, Anketell-Jones, A. H. Lewis, F. Maitland-Dougall, D. Evans, T. A. Wood, Milton Edgson and J. E. Stillwell.

On the appointment of officers Mr. Frank Shepherd, M.P., addressed a few words to the meeting thanking those present and all others in the Cowichan district who had rendered yeoman service at the time of the election which led to such a signal victory in the Nanaimo electoral constituency. Mr. W. H. Hayward, he said, had spared himself no labors in the cause and had spoken on his behalf in the riding at no less than fourteen meetings.

Mr. W. H. Hayward and Mr. Seymour-Green also spoke.

Amongst those present were A. Blyth, H. Alexander, Chas. Walker Johnson, Seymour-Green, F. A. F. Brettingham, J. Emery Stillwell, John Hirsch, M.P., Dr. P. W. Rolston, James Jay Mutter, Gerald Pooley, A. J. Bell, John B. Hall, George Townend, William Morten and Albert Abbey Godden.

Blackie's Handwriting

Professor Blackie had a peculiar fist. An elderly Highland compositor on the "Scotsman," however, knew nearly all about the professor. One night there was particularly difficult manuscript from the professor. It was put before the expert with an inquiry as to whether or not he could set it. "I could not do that," said the veteran from Inverness side, "but if I'd my pipes here I could play him."

THE PREMIER'S ADVICE

Premier McBride's advice about the desirability of employing white labor has given rise to considerable comment, and in nearly every instance this has been of a favorable character. There is little doubt that if it were followed this province would, from physical, sociological and material standpoints, form a much more stable community. In addition its adoption would remove any possibilities of racial differences, and make this section of the Dominion an all-white British Columbia. This is part of the Premier's policy, as evidenced by the clauses which he has had inserted in provincial contracts with railway corporations engaged on construction work here. It is a movement in which the people of British Columbia are with him heart and soul. With regard to his latest stand employers of labor may ask the question if they get rid of Orientals can they be certain of white men being available to take up their work. We think that if this is not possible at the moment that it will be within a very short time. Any step which might be taken in the direction towards which the Premier has pointed must necessarily be slow. A beginning, however, could be made, if those who control the lumbering and fishery interests in the province show that they are sufficiently patriotic to couple national obligations with self-interests. If they decide to adopt the policy advocated by the Premier time will provide them with the opportunities, and all the white labor that they want. Immigration to this province is increasing yearly. Men of all occupations are coming in, and the great bulk of these new arrivals are of the Anglo-Saxon race, and men of such a character as will swell the wealth of the community and help to develop the country both nationally and provincially. With white men, and especially men of our own race employed in all our industries it will be assured that the money they earn will be put into homes of their own and not sent to foreign countries. Thus each of our workers will have a stake in the country, and if unhappily the time should come when Canada is embroiled in war dependence could be placed on every able bodied man of the population lending his aid to preserve his heritage. That is what Premier McBride means by an all-white British Columbia.

The question is undoubtedly a large one to grapple with, but the country is young, and now is the time when steps should be taken looking towards the end in view. By adopting a drifting policy the time may come when it will be impossible to set things right. Already, as the Premier pointed out, our fisheries are almost exclusively in the hands of Asiatics. We have just passed through an election, the result of which proved very conclusively that our policy is "Canada for the Canadians." In the working out of this ideal there are many things to be considered in a country towards which the tide of immigration is setting so strongly. Here in British Columbia we have problems which do not exist in any other part of Canada, and it is our duty as Mr. McBride says, to take hold of them ourselves. Governments can accomplish a good deal in preserving the type of citizen which they desire to have, but they always have to consider international complications. We here in British Columbia have no antipathy against any of the Asiatic races. We have it, however, largely in our own power to say what kind of population will inhabit this country in the future. By keeping the province in so far as we are able for those who are of our own color, and who possess similar ideals we will be not only insuring ourselves against time of trouble, but safeguarding this wonderful heritage for the generations that are to come.

BRITISH CABINET CHANGES

Changes which almost amount to reconstruction have just taken place in the British cabinet, and the most important of these in the new portfolio which has fallen to the lot of the Right Hon. Winston Churchill. He has changed places with Mr. Reginald McKenna and now becomes first lord of the Admiralty. On the wisdom of the prime minister's decision there will [illegible] be many varying opinions [illegible] at this long range it is difficult to [illegible] qualifications [illegible] Churchill possesses for such a post. The first lord of the Admiralty engages in a sphere which brings him into the international arena. His utterances are of world wide significance, and next perhaps to the premier and the foreign secretary there is no minister who has to keep a more careful guard on his language. The post is one which would presuppose considerable naval knowledge on the part of its occupant. That Mr. Churchill is so equipped we have no reason to believe. As Home Secretary, he was a success, and it is possible that he may, with the undoubted talents which he possesses, preside over the deliberations of the Admiralty with wisdom and foresight. At first blush, however, it does not seem that his selection for the portfolio would find general favor. Rumor had connected his name, in any change of office, with the Irish secretaryship.

The Right Hon. Reginald McKenna takes up the Home Secretaryship, a post for which he is undoubtedly much more fitted than that which he has vacated. A barrister by profession, he has had a parliamentary experience of sixteen years during which he occupied the important positions of financial secretary of the treasury, president of the board of education, and first lord of the Admiralty. Earl Carrington, who has been president of the board of agriculture since 1905, vacates that post to become Lord of the Privy Seal. The portfolio goes to Mr. Walter Runciman, formerly president of the board of education, in which position he is succeeded by Mr. J. A. Pease. The latter was formerly chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, in which post he is succeeded by Mr. C. E. Hobhouse, who was financial secretary to the treasury.

AN EXPANSIVE POLICY

Victoria was favored a few weeks ago by a visit from Mr. Thomas Skinner, deputy governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, and following his tour of Canada comes the announcement that the historic corporation is about to relax its policy of conservatism. This means that in the future it will take a much more energetic part in the growth and development of the West. This is news of considerable interest in this province. Already there have been evidences that the company is embarking on a policy of expansion, and is anxious to share in the general prosperity. In Victoria it has secured a site where an up-to-date departmental store is to be located, and we are informed that it will only be a very short time now before actual building begins. Elsewhere in the West the same progressive policy is being pursued. As in the early days of Canadian history the Hudson's Bay Company was perhaps the first to realise the wealth of this country, so now again it is about to take a full share in the development which is going on all around. In whatever branch of commercial enterprise it has engaged it has shown energy, foresight, and splendid business capabilities. Its advent into the departmental store life of this city will be welcomed, not only because it brings with it a reputation that is second to none, but because it is an example that it regards Victoria as of sufficient size and prospects to be included in its policy of expansion.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Kamloops is a very prosperous city. Proof of this is to be seen on every hand. New buildings are being erected, but the residents say that houses are so scarce as to be practically unprocurable. This happy condition of things is due to the steady growth of the surrounding community, for it is too soon yet for the construction of the Canadian Northern to have any effect upon business here. The stakes for the railway are on the side of the river opposite the town, where the Fruitvale lands are. I am not going to endeavor to tell what Kamloops is now, but I am going to try to indicate some of the factors which will ensure its future growth and prosperity.

When twenty-one years ago I first crossed British Columbia on the Canadian Pacific railway and looked at the country from the car windows, it took a good deal of faith to accept the statement that there was any land in this part of the world worthy of serious consideration. I have now had an opportunity of seeing for myself that there is a very great deal of excellent land and of learning from others that there is very much more that I have not seen. In motoring across country from Merritt, I observed in one place a field of perhaps twenty acres on a hillside that was being ploughed. The freshly turned earth looked just like any other newly ploughed ground, although all around looked dry. Today I talked with a man who knows the country very well, and he told me that many parts of it which were thought a few years ago to be fit only for grazing lands have been sown to grain and have yielded satisfactory returns without irrigation. On the remoter hillsides where there are forests growing there is much land that will be [illegible] irrigable areas are extensive. I mention these things because there is much land of this description lying south of Kamloops. This city is a central point from which radiate four chief lines along which colonization is finding its way. One of these is to the south across the wide region just referred to. Another is to the north up the North Thompson. Another is to the east up the South Thompson to Shuswap Lake. Another is to the west down the main Thompson. Just how many thousands of acres of agricultural land there are of which Kamloops is the natural centre I have not yet been able to find anyone to give me an estimate, but the area is very extensive indeed.

In addition to the agricultural possibilities of its environment and tributary area Kamloops is the centre of a region wherein there are many unmistakeable evidences of mineral wealth. Development has been tardy, but there is no reason to suppose it will be indefinitely delayed. Many reasons can be assigned for the failure of mineral prospects in various parts of the province to materialize into mines as rapidly as was at one time anticipated reasons which do not mean that the mineral wealth is not there. The construction of the Canadian Northern up the North Thompson will mean much to Kamloops, as also will the construction of a branch of this road to the south, a prospect about which there is no reasonable doubt.

Kamloops people are very optimistic as to the future, and they have good reason to be so. Down on the bank of the river near the Fulton Bush are a couple of old log houses. These formed part of the old Hudson Bay post. The H. B. C. pioneers were men of prophetic vision. At least they had keen eyes for vantage points, and they chose the junction of the North and South Thompson as one of them. This is of itself a guarantee that Kamloops occupies a strategic position and will continue as the province develops to hold its relative place among British Columbia centres.

Oak Bay has decided to take a municipal census. The example is one which Victoria might well copy as this city has more to lose by misrepresentation than the neighboring municipality.

ARION CLUB HAS A SMALL DEFICIT

Local Musical Organization Holds Annual Meeting and Arranges for Coming Season

The annual general meeting of the Arion club was held on Thursday last at the home of the honorary conductor, Mr. E. Howard Russell, with Mr. P. Wollaston in the chair. The audited accounts for the past season were presented and adopted. The treasurer's report showed that the season's expenditure exceeded the income by $101.42, but it was pointed out that this was after including the Arion-Orpheus reunion account, which showed a deficit of $172.80, and that but for this exceptional cost of entertaining the visiting club the season would have resulted in a surplus of $71.38, compared with $29.91 in the previous year. Apart from the singing members, who all subscribe for tickets, there were 179 associate members who paid $889.75 for 498 tickets for the series of three concerts. This shows an increased membership list, and much satisfaction is felt at this evidence of the continued and increasing popularity of the club.

The balance sheet shows a surplus of $262.94, comprising cash and a few outstanding debts. The assets also include stock of music $671.08 valued at half cost, and furniture, $48. This shows that in both seasons the club has been able by increased patronage to keep within its revenue, notwithstanding the increased expenses and the continuance of the very low subscription rates which were fixed many years ago. All offices are honorary and the subscriptions are solely applied to the giving of concerts of the highest class at the least possible cost. It was decided to maintain the same subscription rates during the ensuing season, viz: $6, $5 and $4 for, respectively, four, three or two tickets for each of the series of three concerts. Subscriptions will not be received for any one concert, and no tickets will be issued at the box office. Intending subscribers should make application at once to the secretary: Mr. E. J. Hearn, P. O. box 863, enclosing remittance for the number of tickets desired for the course.

It was decided to engage for the second concert Madamoiselle Plumb, of Chicago, a well known contralto of the very highest qualifications, who will make a tour of this coast early next year.

The following members were elected as office-bearers for the present year (which is the club's twentieth season), viz: E. H. Russell, B. A., hon. conductor; Herbert Kent, hon. president and sub-conductor; E. J. Hearn, hon. secretary; B. C. Mess, hon. treasurer; D. D. Muir, hon. librarian. Mr. Frank Sehl was elected to serve on the music committee in conjunction with the conductor and sub-conductor, and the executive committee consists of all of the foregoing officers with the addition of Mr. H. Griffiths.

Business completed, a whist-drive kindly arranged by the host as an after-recreation was strenuously entered into, Mr. Frank Sehl and Mr. J. Walters bearing off the handsome prizes which had been provided.

BOY'S FOOT BADLY SCALDED

Mother Says Zam-Buk Acted Like Magic!

Mrs. E. Capell, 31 Sydney street, Hamilton, tells how beneficial Zam-Buk proved in her family. She writes: 'My little boy aged one and a half years put his foot into a pot of boiling water. The foot was so badly scalded that the skin came off with his stocking, and he had a shocking scald from instep to toes.

"I at once sent for a supply of Zam-Buk, and as soon as this was applied it seemed to act like magic and gave him ease. It was good to tell that Zam-Buk stopped the pain because up to applying it I had to nurse the child all the time, but soon after I applied Zam-Buk he was anxious to get on the floor and go on with his play!

"I only used four boxes of Zam-Buk and the scald was then entirely healed; so I consider this the best investment I ever made. I believe Zam-Buk would have cured the scald even more quickly had the boy been lying down all the time, but after beginning with Zam-Buk it made the sore so easy that he was soon on his feet playing about again.

"I might also tell you that my next boy to him, aged five years, had some bad broken chilblains. We used Zam-Buk on these also, and it cured them. For sores of any kind I shall in future use only Zam-Buk."

Housekeepers everywhere speak similarly of Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for [illegible], rashes, ringworm, chapped hands, scurvy, heat rashes, cuts, burns, ulcers, discharging sores, abscesses, piles, inflammation, festering and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. a box, all Druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for price. For skin diseases use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

PROVED THE REAL THING

Inebriate Supplies Practical Instruction to Police Intent on Theory of First Aid Work

"Excuse me, gents. I guess I sort of struck the wrong place," apologetically remarked the outsider as he wandered into the barracks room at police headquarters last night. Besides a more or less overload of liquor, the intruder displayed an optic which for color-effect, was a work of art. The eye was almost closed, was protruding much beyond the limit fixed by nature, and bore all the appearance of having been assaulted in a decidedly vicious manner by a large and stout-soled boot.

Dr. Donald was in the midst of demonstrating to a large number of the police, the latest modes of treating those in need of first aid. Five burly blue coats were straining in the attempt to lift Constable Blackstock's fifteen stone, more or less, of weight. The constable was the "patient" and bound up in bandages, just as if he were really the victim of a general assault, was lying on a stretcher while the others were being instructed in the art of conveying him to an imaginary ambulance in such manner as not to dump him upon the supposed cold and inhospitable roadway beneath. Into the midst of this scene wandered he of the bruised optic.

It was an inspiration. Here was a real live exhibit available for demonstration. Dr. Donald proceeded to explain upon the injured eye, drawing many useful conclusions therefrom. The horrible example looked surprised, figured somewhat, but said nothing. "Now what would you call that?" asked the doctor. "That" was the discolored eye.

"I don't know what the right term is, but I'd call it a 'shanty,'" [illegible] one hopeful member of the class.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Police Badge Lost—Anyone finding a police badge numbered 22 is requested to return the same to the police headquarters.

Had No Permit—Because he had placed building material on St. Charles street without first obtaining a permit from the city engineer, Thomas Ash was fined $5 by the magistrate in the police court yesterday.

Pillage Hunting Lodges—Shooting lodges in the vicinity of Sooke lake are being pillaged by thieves according to reports received by the provincial police authorities. Mr. A. E. Todd has reported that some person or persons broke into his premises at that point and stole a number of blankets and other articles.

Sir Wm. Whyte—Sir William Whyte, the eminent naval architect who is staging a tour of Canada, is now at Prince Rupert, having arrived at the northern metropolis on Saturday evening. He is expected to reach Victoria soon. Will Entertain Delegates—The annual sessions of the B. C. Union of Municipalities, with which the city is affiliated will be held in Victoria on November 16 and 17. At tonight's meeting of the city council the city's delegates to the convention will be appointed, as well as a special reception and entertainment committee, which will look after the entertainment of outside delegates, and the necessary appropriation for such will be recommended.

Blaze on Yates Street—Believed to have been started by an ignited cigar or cigarette end, a blaze did some damage to the premises of the Pacific Sheet Metal Works, 1009 Yates street yesterday morning. A quantity of rubbish and some packing boxes were set ablaze, but the prompt action of the fire department prevented extensive damage, though the flames had secured a good start. A false alarm from box 42, Blanchard street, gave the department a needless run at 11 o'clock Sunday night.

Government Street Lighting — Owing to the fact that it will not be possible to have the cluster lighting system in operation on Government street early enough for the holiday trade, Alderman H. M. Fullerton, chairman of the electric light committee of the city council, will recommend at tonight's meeting of that body that the city electrician make an estimate of the cost of a temporary system of festoon lighting to be installed before November 15, between Humboldt and Herald streets, the same to be left until the cluster lighting system is installed, the city to supply the current and Alderman Fullerton to guarantee the cost of the installation.

New Burner Under Way—Good progress is being made with the erection of the giant burner which the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company is having constructed at its plant on Store street. The burner will be 121 feet in height with a base of a diameter of thirty-three feet at the bottom. Concrete will be used in construction, but the latest ideas will be adopted in the fitting up of the chimney. The interior will be lined with two steel tubes one within the other the space between to be kept filled with water which, heated by the continuous burning of waste material, will be used in supplying the boilers, and thus greatly add to the efficiency of the plant. The burner is now up about twenty-five feet, and will be completed in a short time. Its cost will be in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Fined For Assault—In the police court yesterday morning, John Wilson charged with assaulting Thomas Keappock, a conductor on the B. C. Electric, pleaded guilty, and was fined $20 with the option of one month's imprisonment. The accused was a passenger on a Douglas street car, of which the complainant was the conductor. On the trip north, the accused had made himself a nuisance by frequently pulling the bell, and confusing the motorneer. He had been warned several times by the conductor, and at the end of the line when the conductor had again reproved him for his conduct, Wilson struck Keappock across the face.

Indians Fined—Hibben Loui, an Indian, paid a fine of $25 in the police court on pleading guilty to having carried a concealed weapon. Sam Jones, another native, paid a like sum, because he had been found in the possession of intoxicants.

Returns Open Verdict—"Found drowned" was the verdict returned yesterday afternoon by the jury empannelled to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Andrew Wensil Howlett, whose body was found floating at the foot of Yates street on Friday afternoon. The evidence showed that death was due to drowning and no signs of violence were noted at the post mortem examination. The testimony further showed that Howlett, who was latterly employed at the cement works at Tod Inlet, was last seen at 2.30 o'clock on the morning of the 4th inst., when he left his room at the Blue Post saloon and departed not telling his room-mate where he was going. He had prior to that showed signs of mental trouble, claiming Chinamen were following him. A blow he received on the head while working for the city some months ago is believed to have affected his mind. Beyond the fact that he came to this city from Manitoba where he is supposed to own a farm little or nothing is known of his antecedents or relatives. The jury was composed of Messrs. J. S. Huxtable, foreman; H. Hutchinson, V. Evans, A. Carrington, C. Baxter and L. Evans. The funeral will take place from the Hanna & Thomson chapel this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, where services will be held.

Was Attending Funeral—When Thos. Lind's name was called by the clerk in the police court yesterday, there was no response. A few minutes later the magistrate was informed that the accused was attending a funeral, and could not be present. "Had he been attending his own funeral, there might have been an excuse," said the court, good-naturedly. Lind is employed by Cameron & Caldwell, and was charged with allowing his horse to stand on the street, not sufficiently tied to prevent its running away. A remand was allowed until this morning.

Monday Morning Fire.—Early on Monday morning the fire department was called to a large rubbish fire on Yates street at the corner of Vancouver street, which if prompt action had not been taken, might have resulted in a large fire involving two large buildings—the Pacific Sheet Metal works and a big wooden building on the corner, formerly a barn. The rubbish pile lay between the two structures, which are about ten or so feet apart. The damage was about twenty-five dollars. The origin of the fire is not known.

Boy Scouts' Shoot—On Saturday the Boy Scouts held their first annual shoot for the Oscar Bass challenge cup. Out of seventeen troops there were ten entries and the competition lasted throughout the day, being held in the drill hall by kind permission of Col. Currie, C. O. Fifth Regiment. There were six boys in each team and each boy had one sighting shot and ten for the competition proper. The decimal system of marking was used, making a possible of 100 for each boy. The range was 30 yards, with the .22 rifle, but the light was very poor. The result was an easy win for the XV. (University school) troop who scored 356, McBride being highest with 70. The next was the 1st troop with 332, for whom Richardson scored 71, which was the highest individual score in the whole competition. The third place was won by the XIV. troop, also from University school, who deserve special mention as they were all boys under thirteen years of age. They obtained 274 points. Messrs. Harvey, Soltz and Davey very kindly marked throughout the whole competition while Mr. Collinson took charge of the firing point. During the afternoon the donor of the cup, Mr. Bass, very generously distributed refreshments to those present. The cup is a challenge cup to be held by the winning troop for one year only but at the end of ten years it goes to the troop whose name is on it the most number of times. The full scores, in order of merit, were as follows: 1st. XV. troop, 356; 2nd. I. troop, 332; 3rd. XIV. troop, 274; 4th. IV. troop, 262; 5th. III. troop 168; 6th. II. troop, 118; 7th.

The Colonist Has All the News

NEWS OF THE CITY

Harvest Thanksgiving — Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held on Sunday next, in connection with the annual Thanksgiving Day celebrations, at the Reformed Episcopal church.

Call For Rehearsal—All those taking part in the "Trial of Pickwick" are requested to meet at the home of W. F. Emery, 1570 Pembroke street, Wednesday evening, and E. E. Hardwick's Oak Bay avenue, on Friday evening for rehearsal.

Rithet Street Improvement—Among local improvement works which will be considered at tonight's meeting of the city council, will be the paving with asphalt of Rithet street from Menzies street to South Turner street and the construction of boulevards on both sides of the thoroughfare, the owners benefited to pay four-fifths of the cost.

Accident to Columbia II.—Rev. John Antle, superintendent of the Columbia Coast Mission, who was to have preached at the cathedral on Sunday, was unable to be present, having been summoned up the coast, owing to the Columbia having broken her shaft. It has been decided that the boat shall be laid up until March.

Firemen Will Entertain.—Tonight at headquarters the first of the winter's monthly dances to be given by the members of the fire department will be held. The fire laddies have spared no effort to make the occasion a thorough success and the large number who will attend will have a most enjoyable time. Good dance music and the best of floors will add to the enjoyment.

No Executive Meeting.—Owing to the fact that there was no quorum of provincial ministers in the city yesterday the anticipated meeting of the executive council had to be postponed. Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works is on the mainland and but two of his colleagues were at the capital yesterday—the premier, and Hon. H. E. Young, the provincial secretary.

Order of Owls Growing.—The fortnightly meeting of the local branch of the Order of Owls held last night in the A.O.F. hall, Broad street, was largely attended. Several applications for membership were made and a number of new members admitted. The financial and other reports showed the new order to be in a flourishing condition. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 13, when about a dozen more new members will be initiated.

Talks on Topography.—At the regular fortnightly meeting of the Natural History society held last night, Mr. R. H. Chapman, in charge of the Dominion Topographical Survey of Vancouver Island, delivered a most interesting address upon this season's work. Mr. Chapman has the happy faculty of presenting a graphic word picture of the interesting portions of the mountainous and wild countries travelled. Fine maps were also shown, illustrating the excellent and useful work this branch of the Geological Survey is doing in the southern part of Vancouver Island. There was a large and appreciative attendance.

More Time for Registration—Registration of license and householders who desire to vote at the forthcoming civic elections showed greater activity yesterday, but the number taking the necessary declaration at the office of the city assessor is still small. Some fifty registrations were made yesterday, the total to date being about 500. In order to permit those who find it difficult to attend in the day time the assessor's office will be open between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock each evening for the balance of the week. All registrations must be made before the end of the month. Those who paid their annual $2 tax prior to the last election may be registered on making the necessary declaration and without further payment.

Good Roads Convention.—Prospects for the success of the Goods Roads convention which is to be held in New Westminster on November 3 and 4 are most encouraging, and that the meetings will have an important bearing on the movement for the improvement of existing roads and the building of new highways is now assured. In addition to the representative members of the Pacific Highway association who will make the trip to the Royal City for the purpose of taking part in the convention, a large number of men who are showing their interest in the movement for the first time will also be present. Delegates from boards of trade from all parts of the province, representatives of automobile clubs from as far east as Winnipeg and as far south as Portland, and several members of the provincial parliament will be among those taking an active part in the debates.

Pointing Rifle is Charge—In the provincial police court before Magistrate Jay yesterday morning, William Flannigan was arraigned charged with pointing a rifle at Frank Granville Morris and others at the house of Christopher Moses, in West Saanich. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until Thursday morning. The accused was allowed out on bail in two sureties of $350 each.

Wanted a Rest—An old-timer, past the middle mark of life, in the person of Thos. Schools, pleaded guilty to drunkenness in the police court yesterday morning. During his bout he had smashed the large plate glass window in the St. Francis hotel, and the city prosecutor believed that he had done this, in order that he might be sent down for a rest. He was remanded until this morning, when in all probability he will face the more serious charge of vagrancy.

Lake Hill Women's Institute—The members of the Lake Hill Women's Institute and many other ladies of the neighborhood, on October 19th and 18th, made the most of their opportunity of witnessing [illegible] demonstrations given by Miss E. Livingstone, of Vancouver, B. C. Special features were labor-saving devices in cookery, cutting and curing of meats, economical cookery of meats, etc., all of which were most instructive and interesting. The [illegible] were held at "[illegible]," where the hospitality of Mrs. [illegible] was greatly appreciated by all.

Thanksgiving Concert—A Thanksgiving Day concert will be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in James Bay Methodist church.

Sale of Work—The ladies of St. Andrew's church will hold a sale of work in the church parlors from 2.30 till 6 o'clock on Wednesday next.

On Woman Voting—The political Equality League will hold a parlor meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Adams, 629 Andrews street, Victoria West, on Wednesday next. Mrs. Baer will occupy the chair and Mrs. Graves will give an address on "The Objections to Women Voting."

Paving Fisguard Street—A large gang of workmen commenced work yesterday on Fisguard street between Blanchard and Government streets on grading, etc., preparatory to the paving work which will be undertaken by the Canadian Mineral Rubber company.

A Forward Policy.—That the B. C. Electric Railway company is planning an aggressive policy is clearly indicated by developments at the Outer docks. Large quantities of rails of the heavy type are arriving from the Old Country and in order to get them conveyed to places where they are to be used, the company has put down spur tracks leading directly to the wharf.

Double Tracks.—It is significant of the character of the line which the B.C. Electric Railway company is to build from Victoria to the Saanich peninsula that provision is being made by the paving company now at work on Burnside road for double tracks on the section to be paved from Douglas street to the city limits. A good proportion of the concrete is already in place and it will be possible to commence the work of laying the rails at an early date.

A Popular District—With the official announcement of the intention of the owners of the Uplands farm property to proceed at once with the work of developing the same as a choice residential area, at an expenditure of one million dollars, the land in the immediate vicinity has sprung into great favor. It was reported yesterday that several blocks of land in what is known as Dean Heights, which were disposed of in lots to individual purchasers some time ago, has been repurchased by the original vendors.

New Legislative Block.—Preliminary to the commencement of work on the new block at the rear of the Parliament Buildings, which will be a duplicate of the present structure, the contractors have erected a neat office building on Superior street. The old two-storey brick building which until recently did duty as the home of the mineral museum, is being removed from its position just at the rear of the big buildings to a new site close to Superior street. This building is the last remaining vestige of the historical group of "bird-cages" which constituted the original parliament buildings erected when the seat of government was removed from New Westminster to this city.

Excellent Stretch of Walk—A petition asking for a cement sidewalk along Newport avenue from the Oak Bay hotel to the sea, running through the Golf Links, extending probably a mile over one of the most picturesque stretches in the municipality of Oak Bay, was finally passed at the council meeting last night, and will be proceeded with immediately. Permission was granted to Mr. J. Gray, a wood-dealer to land 100 cords of wood in front of the Oak Bay hotel foreshore, providing that the wood is cleared away by January 1st, 1911. Communications from the local and New Westminster, B. C. members of the Good Roads movement, were received and filed, asking that the municipality be represented by a member at the meeting to be held in New Westminster on November 4th and 5th.

Y. M. C. A. Activities—There was a large attendance at the regular mens' mass meeting in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon. Rev. C. M. Whyte delivered an interesting and inspiring address on the subject, "Love your neighbor; love your enemy." At the conclusion of this meeting the first session of the gymnasium men's Bible study class was held under the leadership of Physical Director, H. G. Beall. There were about 25 young men present. At the regular Fellowship Tea held in the diningroom at 6 o'clock, 11 strangers made their presence known. Sunday at the "Y" closed with a song service "round the piano" at 9 o'clock, in which a large number of young men participated. Tonight, during the young men's "gym" class an examination in apparatus work will be given by the physical director to test the ability of the men, after which they will be formed into squads according to their ability. A similar examination will be given the juniors on Friday afternoon and the intermediates on Wednesday afternoon.

Central Fire Station—The question of co-operation in the buying of a site at the city limits adjoining the Oak Bay municipality, for the purpose of erecting a central fire station, half of which cost is to be paid by the corporation of Victoria and the remainder by the Oak Bay municipality, was again revived at the Oak Bay council meeting last night, and within the next few days the city clerk will receive a letter making the same offer to the city council as was refused two years ago with one amendment, added last evening, by a vote of 4 to 2. The amendment is that the location of the site be selected by a joint committee of the two bodies and that it be neutrally central for both parties concerned. Councillor McGregor was in favor of passing the proposition through as it was made two years ago in July to the city, but Councillor Oliver made strong objection, introducing the amendment. Councillor Oliver was supported, although Councillor Pemberton had seconded Councillor McGregor's motion, and then on the vote decided for the amendment, Councillors Lindsay and McGregor voting with the original motion. Had Councillor Pemberton voted with the motion as he had first signified, the reeve would have been called upon to give the dissenting vote. The [illegible] the city.

ACCUSED HIS DAUGHTER

Feeble Old Man Possessed of Peculiar Idea Again Hales His Own Child to Police Court

An old man, white-haired and feeble, has for several weeks past been busily engaged in drawing up the necessary papers, with which he could charge his daughter, with the theft of a small quantity of wire, valued at $1.50. On more than one occasion this old man has been the cause of arraigning his daughter in court on some trivial charge of no importance, presumably as a source to "get even" with her, because of a land deal which did not please him, and which was threshed out in court sometime ago. The old gentleman has been examined as to his mental condition, by doctors at the instigation of the city prosecutor, but the medical men claim that his case is not one for the asylum. The city prosecutor refused to have anything to do with the case yesterday, and the magistrate listened to a rambling story for a short time more to please the troubled mind than to obtain any information which would enable him to arrive at any decision. The facts were obvious, and needed no interpretation. For several minutes the complainant walked about ignoring commands to keep to the box, and on the floor of the court room he attempted to make it plain to the magistrate just how his chicken yard was laid out, explaining the lengths of the wire, etc. The magistrate listened patiently until the story was complete, and then he told the old man that he had brought his case into the wrong court. "You should have taken it to the supreme court," continued the magistrate. "The case is dismissed."

When he had finally realized that once again his efforts had been in vain he thanked the court, and quickly left the room, apparently not at all worried over the outcome.

ANOTHER PIONEER PASSES AWAY HERE

Mrs. Mary Ann Richardson, Who Came to Victoria in 1858 Joins Great Majority—Very Well Known

Surrounded by the members of her family, Mrs. Mary Ann Richardson, wife of Mr. George Richardson, passed peacefully away at the family residence, 115 Government street yesterday afternoon, her death marking the passing of one of the pioneers, who ventured to this part of the world in the days of 1858.

It was seventy-four years ago, February 28, 1837, in the town of Dartford, Kent, England, that deceased was born. She arrived in this city, but then a village, on the steamer Princess Royal, from the south, coming on the same vessel and the same trip that brought Mrs. Alexander Munro, another well known pioneer of Victoria. The late Mrs. Richardson was widely known and besides a large family, leaves a wide circle of friends. Beside a husband, five daughters, Mrs. J. C. McClure, Mrs. F. Elworthy, Mrs. James Porter, Mrs. R. Boggs and Miss Edith Richardson, of this city, and one son, Mr. G. A. Richardson, survive. She leaves also four sisters, Mrs. Edward Pace, of England, Mrs. James McCurdy of Seattle, and Mrs. H. Mansell and Mrs. James Ure of Victoria, and two brothers, Messrs. J. and T. Parker, both residing at Rocky Point, Vancouver Island.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Thursday, at 2 o'clock and at 2:30 from the Reformed Episcopal church, where services will be conducted by the Rev. T. W. Gladstone. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

TOWNSITE AT AUCTION

Unique Sale Recently Held at Mirror, Alberta, a New "City" of the Grand Trunk Pacific

Something unique in the way of auctions is reported from Mirror, a new town founded by the Grand Trunk Pacific, located on the shores of Buffalo lake, between Edmonton and Calgary. Special trains were recently run from Edmonton and Winnipeg taking a large number of people to the new city, which was recently laid out, and the auctioneer began to sell a townsite by auction. In one day lots to the value of $251,645,000 were sold, the prices ranging from $250 to $2,075 per lot. The town was name after the London Daily Mirror, one of Lord Northcliffe's newspapers in London, England.

Peat-Producing Countries

According to a government report on mines and quarries, Sweden is said to possess the largest supply of peat in the world, with the exception of Russia. It is estimated that there are four million hectares of peat, with an average depth of two metres, equal to about 3,000 tons per hectare, or a gross total of 3,000 million tons. Peat is dug for use as household fuel, and for making peat-litter and peat-mould. In Russia there is an office under the ministry of agriculture and Domains (Bureau de l'Industrie des Tourbes) which supervises the peat industry. [illegible]

HERE AND THERE

Unhappy Divisions.

In this new country of ours there is no room for the class distinctions that in the course of centuries have grown up in older lands. We have no place for the exclusiveness, the jealousies, the sordid ambitions which already make life unhappy in many cities of our own country. Society is made up everywhere of little groups of individuals drawn together by some common bond. We cannot be intimate with all whom we know even if we have great wealth and much leisure at our disposal. But we can all choose our friends for what we believe to be their real worth and look out upon the rest of the world with kindly eyes, ready to help when we have an opportunity and always willing to cooperate in any good cause. In the west, especially, this is the attitude of men and perhaps this is one of the reasons for the remarkable growth of our cities.

In an address before the church congress which recently met at Stoke-upon-Trent, in England, the Bishop of London spoke upon the subject of the church and Democracy and his words have a very wide application. He said among other things: "I believe . . . . consciously or unconsciously, we are influenced still by class prejudice. We freely admit and deplore the great obstacle which the "caste" system presents in India to the progress of the Gospel; but are we equally sensible to the subtle caste feeling which exists as an intangible fence between us and the toiling millions of our people?"

"Unless we realize that that young workman is as proud and sensitive as our own young brother who has come home from the University or from Sandwich; unless we realize that he does not want charity or pity or being preached at any more than the other; that he wants to stand on his own feet and look the whole world in the face, and have a man's life with some leisure in it and time to read and think, and an honorable opportunity to court his girl, and a home to take her to, and that nothing else that we can give him will do instead, nothing else is treating him as a man—not till we realize that and show him we realize it have we given him real sympathy. And so with the girls and women."

We may be profoundly grateful that in this country there is no need of helping the workingman. He has room and opportunity to help himself. But women here should take care that they do not build up that intangible wall which the good bishop finds in the old land, such a real obstacle to the work which he, in common with thousands of good men and women are trying to do. It is to be remembered, however, that such divisions are not the work alone of the wealthy, the well-born, or the refined. Every woman who from the feeling that she may be looked upon as an inferior, wraps herself in a cloak of reserve, is breaking as far as she is concerned the bond of sympathy that should invite us all.

A Great Singer's Advice.

While she was in Victoria, Madame Eames spoke very strongly to the lady through whose instrumentality she was induced to make the presentations to Miss Gladys Spencer and Miss Margaret Tilly, on the undesirability of sending promising young musical students abroad. It will be remembered that both girls were taught in Victoria, Miss Spencer by Miss Ethel Lawson and Miss Tilly by Miss Miles. The fact that they won both gold medals sent to Canada shows that in our city there are excellent teachers. The plan pursued by the Musical club of providing an opportunity for talented students to listen to each other was warmly commended by Madame Eames.

In the last issue of the Literary Digest there is an article taken from the Musical American in which the American prima donna outlines a scheme which would prevent young girls from going abroad to obtain an education which they could receive amid the safeguards of home. Madame Eames advocates a "jury system" to decide upon the capacities of young singers before they go abroad to study. The subject is one of great interest to many mothers who will be glad to read what Madame Eames says. Upon a matter on which she is well qualified to speak:

"And of what nature should this jury be?" A body of men perfectly and absolutely disinterested in the young singers who appear before them. An organization consisting of the most eminent musicians—conductors, violinists, pianists, and so forth—but no singing-teachers. A singing-teacher's main impulse on such occasions is to compare the work of a pupil as it then appears with what it was when the pupil first began to study, whereas his real duty should be to compare what the pupil now is to what it is her ambition to become. A jury of this kind, carefully weighing the vocal abilities of the pupil and taking into account the characteristic elements of her personality, would then decide whether or not the aspirant were satisfactorily equipped for the European struggle.

"And why not incidentally offer a medal or two and a few scholarships? Surely we do not lack millionaires who might do this! How often do they hand out their money to no purpose and to anyone who happens to ask for it! England sends two medals to Canada every year as prizes in a concourse of her home-trained singers and I have myself accepted the invitation to distribute this year's after one of my concerts in Victoria, Can., this winter. Prize-concert singing is one of the most important functions imaginable for the young vocal artist whose experience has till then been confined to singing before a narrow circle of friends and admirers, and who has lacked all opportunity to observe the achievements of others. It is like the case of a young girl who goes to a ball, her heart [illegible] ... sees that there are other gowns so beautiful that her own sinks into insignificance by comparison and she is filled with dismay at her own self-deception.

"So it is with young singers. They have heard their work spoken of in glowing terms by teacher, parents, friends. But when they are brought together with many others in a competition, when they are obliged to sing in strange surroundings, when they see how far superior to their own execution of this or that is the execution of certain others, when they realise the enormous difficulty of some particular detail of vocalism, then it is that their eyes are opened to the immensity of the gap that still separates them from the goal of their ambitions. And, as a result, they will feel far less inclined to abandon their homes and try to carve out their fortunes alone and in a country with whose manners and customs they are totally unfamiliar."

Successfully to endure the stress and tribulations that Europe holds in store, declares Mme. Eames, "a girl must have a tremendous grip on herself, on life, on art." Further:

"She must have the quality of intense, dogged, uncompromising persistence. She should have the fundamental elements of voice-culture thoroughly instilled in her over here; and it is over here that she should be up and doing and earning money before she dreams of attempting to cross the ocean. Let her not delude herself into thinking that the vocal foundations can not satisfactorily be laid in this country. We have exactly as many good teachers here as they have in Europe—perhaps even a great many more—and the number of bad ones across the sea is fairly appalling. But, I repeat, the pupil must by all means start out fairly practically accomplishing things here. Far be it from me to imply by this that she should regard as an "accomplishment" nothing less than an appearance in opera. The practise of attaching supreme importance to opera is a great error. Let all vocal aspirants bear in mind that the singer's domain is very much wider than the operatic territory. . . The advantages of church and concert singing can not be overestimated and a young woman with ability, however great, has no right to scorn church engagements. I myself earned money singing in church and concert here in my own country long before taking my first trip to Europe. And when I finally did go I was fully conscious of the fact that in my voice I possessed a marketable article. I had furnished some proof of my ability and so was confident of myself."

AMUSEMENTS

Empress Theatre—There are many bright entertainers at the Empress this week with Edward Clark an impersonator appearing in three characters, Charles Montrell, the Hippodrome Juggler, Carlyle Moore and Ethelyn Palmer presenting a dramatic sketch "Ambition," a melody man, and a couple of instrumentalists.

Mr. Clark has taken three contrasting characters, they could hardly be more so, a bachelor, a chorus girl and a street urchin. In each of these he is distinct, humorous, and pathetic, and his attention given to clothes with his cleverness as a character actor produced a combination loudly applauded yesterday.

Two players playing four characters are seen in "Ambition," a sketch billed as a comedy but containing much of the pathetic and tragic. It is constructed on the broad lines of stage and narrow lines of church and tells of a family struggle in which a meeting point for the two is found. There is a decided deception little dreamed of till the end of the act when the fact that there are only two people playing in it is made known. They are Carlyle Moore and Ethelyn Palmer.

Charles Montrell has brought from the London Hippodrome a juggling act, a few crates of crockery and a negro, and if there is not enough fun in that combination complaints are in order. There is a funny sensation every minute and a constant stream of laughter all the time this pair is on the boards.

The Medley Man in Brown has been known many years. He is Richard Hamlin, and he as fresh and bright today as he was when he composed the first of his hundred medleys. He sings some of them, time would not allow of them all, and that he is satisfactory is shown by the encore demanded.

A duo of musicians billed as the two roses are giving a miniature concert in instrumental music. They are playing the violin, the 'cello and the piano and as performers show the result of training and musical education. They are talented performers and with well chosen selections were soon favorites and will remain so all the time of their stay here.

RED CROSS INVENTIONS

Conditions of Empress Maria Feodorovna Prize Competition—To Alleviate Suffering

An appeal to the Canadian inventor is contained in a letter received from the Canadian Red Cross Association at Toronto, which sets forth the conditions of the Empress Maria Feodorovna prize competition—a competition for the purpose of awarding prizes to the authors of the best inventions for alleviating the sufferings of sick and wounded soldiers to be held in conjunction with the ninth International Red Cross conference at Washington, D. C., May 7 to 17th, 1912. The competition was established by Her Majesty, the Empress, August Protectress of the Russian Red Cross Society in 1902. The prizes offered are of considerable value, and should prove a great incentive to the Canadian inventor.

The programme with regulations of same is attached: 1. A scheme for the removal of the wounded from the battle-field with the minimum number of stretcher bearers. 2. Portable wash-stands for use in the field. 3. The best way of carrying dressings for use in regimental aid posts and dressing stations. [illegible] ... 8. The best method of heating railway carriages by a system independent of steam from the engine. 9. The best model of portable Roentgen apparatus for the employment of X-rays on the field of battle at the regimental aid posts.

General Conditions

Inventions entered in this competition are to be displayed at an exhibition to be held on the occasion of the ninth International Red Cross conference at Washington, D. C., May 7 to 17, 1912.

Persons intending to compete for these prizes must forward to the general secretary, at Toronto, on or before December, 23rd, 1911, a statement of such intention, giving the number of cubic feet which will be required for the exhibition of their inventions.

Articles entered in this competition must be received carriage prepaid at Washington, D. C., on or before April 15, 1912. Arrangements are being made with the United States customs for the free entry of objects intended for the competitions.

Further information may be obtained from Dr. C. R. Dickson, general secretary Canadian Red Cross Society, 132 Bloor street, West, Toronto.

DIES ON PAROLE

Convicted Bank President Has Only a Brief Tenure of Liberty

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—John R. Walsh, convicted former president of the Chicago National Bank, died at his home here today. He lived only nine days to enjoy the liberty of his parole from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., gained by the continuous efforts of his family and friends, since his incarceration of one year, eight months and 26 days. Death was caused by myocarditis, an inflammation of the muscles of the heart.

The former banker was 74 years of age. Members of his family attributed the immediate cause of his death to his imprisonment and charged President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham with responsibility in failing to arrange the parole earlier.

"They wanted the last ounce of blood," said Orville E. Babcock, son-in-law of Mr. Walsh.

"Who do you mean by 'they'?"

"President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham," he replied.

"We presented them with statements by Dr. Frank E. Billings and Dr. Joseph A. Capp that Mr. Walsh was dangerously ill and that further confinement meant his death. They ignored these medical statements and his death resulted from the long delay in obtaining his release."

Mr. Walsh entered the Leavenworth penitentiary in January, 1910, to begin a five-year sentence. Members of his family said that this was equivalent to a life sentence and at once began work for his release. His health began to fail and examining physicians at the penitentiary said he was suffering from hardening of the arteries. After his release he was probably further weakened by a 26-mile automobile ride in the cold from the prison to Kansas City.

Mr. Walsh was convicted of the misapplication of funds of the bank for the use of his other properties, the Bedford quarries, the Southern Indiana Railway, the Chicago Chronicle and others. All depositors were paid in full.

Stories of Their Travels

The item of house of commons news quoted in Punch this week from a Chinese newspaper: "Mr. F. E. Smith, rose but the Ministerialists drowned him,"—recalls one of Mr. Balfour's stories of the wonderful ways of journalism in the east. Some years ago, while Mr. Balfour was prime minister, he was golfing with parliamentary friends on the Kilspindie links, and news reached them that four boys in a water-logged boat were drifting out to sea. The golfers, Mr. Balfour lending a hand, hauled a heavy fishing boat over the sands, launched it, and some of them rowed out and rescued the lads. Mr. Balfour is no oarsman, and he did not go out with them, but his name was associated with the adventure, and a paragraph went all round the world. Some time later Mr. Balfour received a number of extracts from foreign newspapers and he found that the story as usual had lost nothing in the telling. A Japanese newspaper recorded that he "swam two miles with two boys on his back."—Manchester Guardian.

Mayor Taylor of Vancouver has reconsidered his decision and will be a candidate for re-election in January. This will probably mean the retirement of Ald. Ramsay from the field.

Elio Piliato has been found guilty at Vancouver of wounding a compatriot with intent to kill.

Does Not Follow Neglect of Scalp

Aside from the combing it when they think necessary many people give no attention whatever to their hair. Then when the hair begins to fall out it never occurs to them that their trouble is the result of personal carelessness.

An occasional application of Newbro's Herpicide will not only prevent loss of hair but permits a luxuriant growth.

Herpicide kills the germ that causes dandruff and to this germ most hair losses are attributable. It keeps the scalp clean and free from dirt, allowing the hair to grow unhampered by accumulation of dandruff.

Newbro's Herpicide is sold by all druggists and its manufacturers have such confidence in its germ destroying power that they authorize all druggists to guarantee the one dollar size bottles to do as claimed or money refunded.

Applications may be obtained at good barber shops.

VICTORIA TEAM FOR MINTO CUP

Fairy Story About Extravagant Offer Made Charlie Querrie to Manage Local Club—Enterprise Under Consideration

Lacrosse may be on the wane in the East, but hark to the fairy tales, emanating from the far Pacific, as to the progress that the game is making on the coast, also the enthusiastic prospects in store for the gutted stick artists in British Columbia. Charlie Querrie, the brainy Tecumseh Chieftain, who has just returned from his futile quest after the Minto cup, apparently is badly wanted on the coast, and Victoria's lacrosse moguls have placed a black and white contract before Querrie to take hold of a team for the Garrison City next summer. This comes along with a sheaf of offers to Eastern lacrossists to migrate to the Pacific city, when the leaves bud next spring.

Querrie Will Stick

Twenty thousand cold "bucks" along with government positions for each and every player that Querrie induces to leave his eastern home, is the bait that the Western club has hung up before the Tecumseh manager, and while this offer looks very tempting, for the benefit of the island lacrosse fans it is possible to add the cheering information that Charles Querrie ,lacrosse player, par excellence, will still continue to hold his voting powers in Toronto, and as a friend of reciprocity. The News can also enlighten the readers of this sporting page to the extent that Tecumsehs will be very much in the limelight, under their famous leader.

Jimmie Murphy, president of the National Lacrosse Union, has been coupled with Querrie in this offer, but here again the efforts of the Victoria magnates to steal a couple of Toronto's best known lacrosse figures has been foiled, the N. L. U. "Pat Powers" having also decided to continue his efforts in the herculean work of bringing about a lacrosse Renaissance.—Toronto News.

There may be some truth in the foregoing, but if so it isn't generally known. That Querrie should be offered anything like $20,000, however, is absolutely absurd. It is possible that he was approached, while in the city a couple of weeks ago, with regard to the terms on which he would undertake to provide Victoria with a twelve that might compete on even terms with the Vancouver and New Westminster teams, but to suggest that the sum mentioned was specifically promised is ridiculous. It is on a par with those romances which were circulated with respect to the huge remuneraiton offered Grumpy Spring, Westminster's star inside home, to go east. Still it is a fact that there is a quiet move on foot having for its object the organization of a professional lacrosse team in this city. Sportsmen think that the time has arrived for Victoria to take her place in the annual struggle for the Minto cup. When Mr. Con Jones, of Vancouver, was here the subject was discussed with him by a number of those who are in close touch with the situation, and who might be tempted to take up such a project. However, no decision was reached, and anyway it is doubtful whether Charlie Querrie would be the man selected to place at the helm of the squad that may be entered in the 1912 race from this city.

SPRING BALL GAMES FOR COAST TITLE

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 23.—A series of five games for the baseball championship of the Pacific coast next spring in California between the Vancouver team, champions of the Northwestern league, and the Portland club, champions of the Pacific Coast league, is proposed by President R. P. Brown of the Vancouver club in a letter despatched today to Judge W. W. McCredie, president of the Coast league champions. President Brown will make arrangements to have his players assemble for the spring training in California providing his offer to play for the coast title is accepted. He proposes to play the games prior to the opening of the Coast league season.

NEW SWIMMING RECORDS MADE

J. McNeill, of Victoria, Wins Half Mile Race and Beats Best Canadian Time—Miss Griffen's Achievement

The breaking of the Canadian half mile record by J. McNeill, of this city, with a mark of 14.17, and the establishment of the first Canadian women's 100-yard mark by Miss Madge Griffen, also of Victoria, at the exceedingly creditable figure of 1.36 3-5, were the two outstanding features of the championship swimming meet held last night under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A. S. A.

Before a large crowd, that taxed the capacity of the galleries surrounding the tank of the Victoria Y. M. C. A.'s new home, the competitors were encouraged to do their best, and the result was the inauguration of indoor swimming meets in this city in a very auspicious manner.

A start was made with the initial heat of the half mile Canadian championship. In this there were three entries, namely, G. Simpson, of Vancouver, and H. L. Sellier and F. Crompton, both of this city. They furnished a variety of styles. From the spectacular standpoint the crawl adopted by Sellier and the overhand stroke of Crompton stood out the boldest, but Simpson's consistently strong breast stroke was much admired. The secret of his recent successes among British Columbia long distance swimmers was quite apparent. Crompton was the winner, but he didn't make anything like the time achieved by McNeill, the first in the second heat. The latter had only one opponent, namely, L. K. Godfrey, also of this city. Both adopted the side stroke, but McNeill's easy sweeping and powerful swing put him far in the lead. When he came to the final he again distanced his rivals completing the wearying route in the remarkably good time of 14.17.

McNeill's Fine Mark

McNeill's achievement, there is no doubt, was not properly appreciated by the majority of those who watched the event. The fact that he made Messrs. Crompton and Godfrey, who have local reputations for speed and endurance, look slow, may be understood when it is explained that he chopped over a minute off the previous Canadian record, which was 15.30. Not only this, but his time will stand comparison with the world's mark, which is 11.11 3-5. This is credited to B. B. Kieran, Australia. But it must be remembered that this event was a straightaway contest, and that there is considerable time lost in making the turns necessitated by the limited length of a gymnasium tank.

In the 100 yard ladies Canadian championship, won by Miss M. Griffen, of Victoria, the result was never in doubt, although Miss D. Hay made a plucky struggle from the start to the finish. It was expected that there would be a third competitor in the person of Mrs. V. J. Rayment, but she was not in attendance. Miss Griffen uses a powerful overhand stroke, spinning through the water with the ease and confidence attributed to the mythical mermaid. Both she and Miss Hay were the recipients of hearty applause, the former being received with special enthusiasm when it was announced that her time was 1.36, 3-5, constituting a Canadian record.

Victory for Victoria

Another contest in which keen interest was evinced was the 180 yards challenge race in which the principals were H .Henderson of the Vancouver Y. M. C. A. S. A., and J. Cameron of the Victoria Y. M. C. A. S. A. The challenge had come from the mainlander and had been promptly accepted by the Victorian. Henderson looked formidable as he stood stripped beside his slim and slighter opponent ready for the plunge. But the difference wasn't so evident when they got in the water. Then the comparison was all in the islander's favor. He propelled himself with far less commotion, made the turns with a grace and speed that brought the audience to its feet, and won out handily with a little less than half a lap to the good.

Victory came to J. Thom in the 100 yards contest for the Victoria title by a fair margin although Messrs. Cropper and Muir, especially the latter, gave him a good run. The 60 yards backstroke event and the 40 yards tub race for juniors were both amusing.

Mayor Presents Prizes

His worship Mayor Morley, in a brief address, referred to the success of the meet. He regretted that there were not more outside entries because he felt assured that, in the two championship events—the half mile for men and the 100 yards ladies' event—the winners, both of whom were Victorians, would have been able to hold their own against the best that Canada can produce. (Applause.) He paid both Miss Griffen and Mr. McNeil a compliment, referring to the latter's grace and speed in terms of unstinted praise. He then presented the prizes.

Afterwards the ladies of the Y. M. C. A. provided refreshments for the officials and contestants at which function brief and appropriate speeches were delivered by Mr. L. A. Long, president of the B. C. branch of the C. A. S. A., and Mr. A. B. Cotter, secretary-treasurer of the same branch.

The Officials

The officials follow:

LAW STUDENTS GAIN DECISIVE VICTORY

Rugby Football Match Played Yesterday Resulted in Bankers' Defeat—Rules Disregarded

The men of finance, on the rugby team which lined up on Saturday afternoon at Oak Bay park, representing the local banking houses, were overwhelmingly defeated by their rivals, the gentlemen of the bar—or rather those who will be some day—by a score of 24 points to 3. The game was fast in parts, particularly when the losers scored their only try, but much to their ill-luck a comparatively easy kick failed.

The two teams represented a lot of untried material. The forward pass rule caused more trouble than anything else. While holding the ball when tackled is another restriction which was not honored. But notwithstanding this, the boys showed willingness, which goes a long way when properly applied.

In the back division the winners were superior and the secret of their large score lies in the three-quarter line. Messrs. Gallaher, (who played a good all-round game) Boggs, Ogden and Martin were the members of the back quartette who did the scoring. Shiers at halfback, was one of the fastest players on the field.

The teams will again clash this season and next time the Bankers intend to give the victors of yesterday's match an argument. The teams:

Law Students—Forwards, Milligan, Monteith, White, Ambery, Fletcher, Wootton, Norris and Finland; three-quarters, Gallaher, Ogden, Boggs and Martin; fullback, Tait; reserves, Babbington, [illegible], Carruthers.

The Bankers—Forwards, [illegible], Stewart, Tulk, Wood, Harrison, [illegible] and Holden; halves, Archibald and [illegible]; three-quarters, [illegible]; fullback, [illegible]; Wheeler, Smith, Foley and [illegible].

Messrs. [illegible] their refereed satisfactorily.

BRITISH ARMY CHAPLAIN HERE

Rev. J. H. Bateson, an Interesting Personality, Talks on Recent Methodist Conference and Christian Work in India

"The key note of that world-wide gathering of the Methodist churches was the prevailing sense of personal fellowship with Christ," said the Rev. J. H. Bateson, Wesleyan chaplain-general to the British army and navy, yesterday, referring to the recent Ecumenical conference at Toronto. Rev. Mr. Bateson was one of the Old Country delegates to the great foregathering in the capital of Ontario and he was at the Empress yesterday, having come across Canada on a sight-seeing tour. He has become so much impressed with Victoria that he hopes soon to be able to return with his wife and family for a visit of several months.

Mr. Bateson, despite the fact that he is comparatively a young man, has had a wide experience. During his years of work in India he was responsible for the organization and administration of Lord Roberts' "Institute" scheme for the moral reformation of the army, and since 1909 he has served his church as secretary of the army and navy board, and his country as member of the moral advising committee to the war office.

Continuing his comment on the subject of the recent conference of Methodists Rev. Mr. Bateson said the two outstanding features of that most memorable gathering were, firstly its eagerness to tackle effectively the great moral and social problems of our cities; and, secondly its recognition that, outside the developing agencies of our political and social evolution, the dominant feature in spiritual progress was the increasing sense of personal fellowship with Christ. This fellowship with Christ is, I am convinced, very largely the outcome of the growing interest and appreciation of the significance and the teachings of Christian mysticism. In the Motherland, especially, there has lately been an extraordinary awakening among the churches to the value and importance of developing the sense of mystical fellowship with Christ. This new interest in Christian mysticism is proving an effective antidote to the poisonous materialism of the day.

A Call to Arms

"This conference too has impressed me intensely with its earnestness and vigorous inquiry into the best means for tackling forcibly the pressing questions of bringing manhood into closer touch with the church, and of ameliorating the conditions of life in our towns, particularly in the congested cities of England and Europe. It will be an almost irreparable mistake if the Toronto conference ends with the mere discussion of the problems set for consideration on the agenda. I do not think this will be the case, however. A call has already been sent to the Methodist churches throughout the world to play their part manfully in the development of spiritual religion, and to my fellow members of the largest Christian community in the world, I would say that it's better to be the weariest worker in the ranks than the lustiest cheerer on the wayside.

"I have never been so impressed in all my travels with the beauty and potentialities of a country as on this—my first tour through Canada. First there was Quebec, mighty in its memories of Wolfe and Montcalm. Then came Niagara, that imperishable mirror on which God has inscribed His name in biggest capitals. Then in succession came the lovely lakeland of Ontario, the gorgeous grain lands of Manitoba and Alberta, the wondrous Rockies and British Columbia, in which Nature seems to have her treasure house. And, I can say without flattery that Canada, like a child, keeps her best to the last, as all who come cross the Dominion to this city of Victoria must agree.

"The question of the value of Christian missions in India, and of the effects of trying to convert Mohammedans and Brahmins to our form of religion is too difficult a question to discuss offhand," said the Rev. Bateson in reply to a question. "I have visited practically every mission station in India, however, in the course of my work, visiting garrisons from Ceylon to Afghanistan and from Aden to Singapore. In the course of over half a million miles travel on these duties, I have had probably an unique opportunity of studying the effects of the Christian missions on the native races of India. Generally speaking, the character of Hindus who have become Christians has improved, though one sees this in far greater degree where they have been Christians for two or three generations. I don't believe India will ever be Christianized by the white man. White men will, however, doubtless be behind the movement as a controlling force. But it must rest with the Indian who has caught the flame of love for Christ to carry His evangel to his dark brethren.

"From a quarter of a century's intimate knowledge of the Sikh nation," said the Rev. Mr. Bateson, "among whom I number my many personal friends, I have come to esteem their nation as the most trustworthy, reliable and moral of any in the native community. Their fathers proved worthy foes at the conquest of the Punjab, and their soldier sons are at once the bravest and most loyal of all native troops in our Indian army. They have with the Hindus—proved their capabilities as colonists in the way they have occupied and developed the newly-irrigated lands of the Punjab, converting a great wilderness into a garden and the waste places of the Indian desert into the great granary of the East."

Work in the Army.

The Rev. J. H. Bateson, whom Tommy Atkins in India not only respects and likes as a man and a minister, but admires as an intrepid mountaineer and first class shot, went to India first to join the Upper Burmah field force as chaplain, and served on the staffs of Lord Roberts and of Sir George White, who succeeded "Bobs" after the annexation of that country. For his services in the field with this force, Mr. Bateson was given the medal and two clasps. He was next selected by Lord Roberts as organizer of his "Institute" scheme for the moral reformation of the army in India. At that time men drank because the canteen was the only place of amusement. It was to remedy this that Lord Roberts constructed his "Institute" scheme, with characteristic energy and good fellowship. The Rev. J. H. Bateson organized and for twenty-one years superintended this great movement, with the result that when he left in 1909, he had the satisfaction of knowing that no less than forty-nine per cent. of the British army in India were teetotalers! No more striking tribute, perhaps, could have been given to the ability displayed by the organiser of the scheme than that it was enthusiastically maintained by the successive commanders-in-chief, Sir George White and Lord Kitchener.

In 1909 Mr. Bateson came home at the call of his church to take up the office of secretary of the Army and Navy board, which carries with it the work of chaplain-general to the Wesleyan forces in the united services. Besides being a member of the advisory committee on morals to the War office, the Rev. J. H. Bateson is on the advisory committee of the Territorial army, and holds a commission on the Territorial headquarters staff. During his 23 years' work in the army, he has visited all parts of Africa, Arabia, Mesopotamia and the Persian gulf, and has travelled considerably in Thibet. A keen sportsman and mountain climber, Mr. Bateson has shot big game in all parts of India and knows the Himalayas from end to end. He leaves Victoria for England tomorrow afternoon, but hopes to come here again on a longer visit next summer.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR FORT STREET

Structure Owned by Dr. O. M. Jones Will Give Way to Fine Block—Corner Occupied by Mr. Terry Will be Rebuilt

The work of widening Fort street, between Douglas and Cook streets, is now completed, save for the reduction of the front of three buildings on the corner of Fort and Douglas streets. Work on one of these is now about completed, and it is understood that the four-storey building owned by Dr. O. M. Jones, will be entirely demolished, the reduction necessary from the depth of the building in order to make it conform with the street line so breaking up the interior arrangements as to hardly warrant it being done. A fine new building will be erected in its stead.

The two-storey building on the corner occupied by Mr. Wallace Terry, the druggist, will also be torn down to give way to a new block, and another improvement promised for this section is a building on Douglas between the Terry store and the residence of Dr. R. L. Fraser. The latter, the owner of the property, is said to intend erecting a fine block at an early date.

THE QUESTION OF A MOTOR'S SKID

How Much Space Is Necessary?—That Point May be Decided in Police Court Case Today

An accident which happened at the corner of Yates and Broad streets, on Saturday, October 14, in which D. G. Proble says he was knocked down and slightly injured by a motor car driven by Reuben E. Morran, was the direct cause of a police court case yesterday morning. The charge laid by Mr. Proble against Mr. Morran was that of driving his car on the wrong side of the road, presumably the right side. The evidence of the prosecution and the defence had been heard by the magistrate, when the question of in just what space a motor-car will make a complete turn when skidding, arose, and the suggestion of Mr. Neil McKay, for the defense, that expert motorists be brought to court to decide this question, moved Magistrate Jay to remand the case until this morning.

There seemed considerable doubt in the minds of both the informant and the defendant regarding certain points regarding the affair. Mr. Proble was not sure whether or not he was struck by the front, side or rear of the car, and the accused was not at all positive that his car had struck the complainant at all. He had not seen Mr. Proble until this gentleman was picking himself up in the middle of Broad street. Then it was that he had noticed him for the first time, but he did not question the word of Mr. Proble, when the latter had informed the accused that "he had done it in quite a friendly manner."

BREAKING RECORDS

October Returns Will Carry Year's Figures to Over Three Million Mark

The present month promises to see all monthly building records broken. To date permits for buildings aggregating in value $351,225 have been issued by the building inspector and before the end of the month the total will exceed the $400,000 mark, bringing the total for the ten months to well over $3,000,000.

Yesterday permits to the aggregate amount of $25,500 were issued by the building inspector, among them being one for a twelve-room, frame apartment block to be erected by Messrs. Dunford & Strang on Southgate street, to cost $6,000. Mr. H. J. R. Cullen prepared the plans and the contract has been let to Messrs. Dunford & Son. Another $6,000 permit was issued to Messrs J. E. and B. Wilson for alterations to the Russ House premises, Johnson street. Permits were also issued to William Symons for a brick stable on Discovery street to cost $5,000; to E. Halison, dwelling on Irvine street, $2,000; to Alfred Sallick, dwelling on Seaview street, $1,800; to W. H. Bigham, additions to dwelling, Jackson street, $300; to Messrs. Day & Hilliard, dwelling on Empress avenue, $3,000; to G. Clark, dwelling on Pembroke avenue, $1,200.

LEAVES CITY SERVICE

Mr. A. C. Olsner Secures Responsible Position With Paving Company

Mr. A. C. Olsner, for the past year a member of the city's engineering staff, has accepted the responsible position of construction engineer and representative of the Westrumite Paving Company, and has resigned his position with the city, his resignation to take effect next Saturday. Mr. Olsner will leave shortly afterwards for South America, where the company has secured extensive paving works in Valparaiso, Santiago and Buenos Ayres. Before he joined the city staff Mr. Olsner was engaged as locating engineer on the Canadian Northern Pacific, and laid out the line now under construction from this city to Shawnigan lake. He was also engaged by the Ontario government on railway work in that province, and also with the British government at Hong Kong.

Baron Leo Schade Von Westrum, head of the company, spent a few days in the city, leaving yesterday afternoon for Portland, the headquarters of the company on this coast. He is a brother of the late Mr. Peter Schade Von Westrum, who recently died in this city following a fall down stairs. It was under the latter's supervision that the Vancouver street pavement was laid.

Why Employ an Architect?

People very naturally ask themselves this question, and sometimes think they can save money by building a house from ready-made plans without consulting an architect. This is a grave error. If you stop to think about it for a moment, you will readily see why. It is an exemplification of the old saying that "he who pleads his own case has a fool for a client." An architect who has devoted his life time to a study of his profession and the thousand and one details connected with design, arrangement and construction can not only give his client a stronger and more beautiful house than can possibly be obtained in a haphazard way, but he can save him hundreds of dollars on the cost. Comfort, convenience, beauty and economy are so essential to happiness that the employment of a competent and conscientious architect is as wise a step as any home builder can possibly take.

FIRST SEALER REACHES COAST

Fleet Has a Total Catch of 2,708 Skins for the Season, the Smallest Made Since the Industry Started

BAD WEATHER IN THE BERING SEA

Jessie First of Homing Vessels Reached Clayoquot Yesterday Morning—This is the Sealers' Last Cruise

The sealing schooner Jessie, Capt. George Heater, reached Clayoquot yesterday morning. With her arrival news was given that the total catch of the Victoria sealing fleet of four vessels—the smallest ever sent from this port—was 2,708 skins, little more than half the number taken last year when five vessels took 4,232 and 9 sea otter. A telegram received yesterday morning by Mr. Richard Hall from Capt. Heater reported that the Jessie had 573 sealskins for the season, of which 285 were taken in Bering sea, and the Lady Mine had 592, of which 280 were taken in Bering sea. The Pescawha has a catch of 703 for the season, and the Thomas F. Bayard is topliner with 840.

The catch of the fleet in Bering Sea this season is about half that taken by the five schooners, which hunted there last season. Last year 2,926 skins were taken in Bering sea. Last year the Jessie alone took a third more skins than that vessel, and the Lady Mine both did this year in the north.

The small catch made by the sealers was due to bad weather. On arrival at Clayoquot yesterday morning Capt. Heater reported that the season in Bering sea was the roughest he had experienced for twenty years, lowering days being very few. Seals were plentiful, but there was no weather suitable to lower the canoes to hunt them.

The four schooners left Unimak pass together on October 12th, and the Jessie made the voyage to Clayoquot in ten days. On the way south she ran into a heavy storm. The barometer went down to 28.30, and after weathering the blow she had good weather to the west coast. The other three schooners have not yet arrived.

The catch of this, the last cruise to be made by the Victoria sealers, is a disappointing one. The four vessels took scarcely more than the two topliners alone did last year. Last season the catch was as follows:

Schooner	Bering Sea	Total
Jessie	587	1119
Thomas F. Bayard	566	948
Umbrina	544	817
Pescawha	484	795
Eva Marie	385	563
Grand total	[illegible]	[illegible]

The Pescawha also took seven sea otter skins, and the Thomas F. Bayard took two.

As the new four-power treaty under which sealing at sea is to be stopped for a period of fifteen years will come into effect on Decemebr 15th, this is the last year of the seal hunter, and an industry which has been a profitable one to Victoria will pass away. It is understood that the government proposes to reimburse the sealers for the loss of the business to the extent of about $500,000, of which $200,000 has been received from the United States as an advance part of the share Canada is to receive in the seal herds of the Pribyloffs.

An interesting article is published in the Journal of the Fisheries Society of Japan regarding the material loses which the Japanese will sustain as a result of the stoppage of the pelagic sealing industry. (This paper says: "The following material loss will be suffered:—$400,000 in vessels, gear, etc., which wil naturaly be a total los; for the sealing vessels and their belongings cannot be used for any other purpose, $140,000 annual profit; which is the balance of the total yearly expenditure necesary for the pursuit of the industry. The average expenditure of a sealing schooner is estimated at $4,000 per year. This annual profit represents an aset of $3,500,000 at 4 per cent interest, which is a fair rate on a bank deposit; $100,000 income distributed among 1,000 men engaged in 40 sealers having one master, six hunters, one navigator and sixteen sailors each, also represents an aset of $2,500,000 capital at the same rate of interest. From the above figures it may be infered that a suspension of the pelagic sealing means a financial los to Japan to the extent of $400,000 in a lump sum, and $240,000 annual income, or a perpetual aset of $6,400,000. This only the material loss that Japan may incur by a suspension of the pelagic sealing, but this will be only a trifling matter when compared with the loss of the intrinsic value of the pursuit to Japan. The intrinsic value here means the advantage that the country is now deriving from the pelagic sealing in the way of discoveries of fishing grounds and acquisition of seafaring knowledge and the training which is the basis of the Japanese navy and the merchant marine. Just as the American whalers were the nucleus of her navy the Japanese fishermen are the mainstay of the navy of Japan. This has to be considered in connection with any agreement affecting the sealing industry."

REPAIRS BEGUN ON THE PRINCESS BEATRICE

Injuries to Vessel Which Stranded on Noble Island not as Extensive as Was Anticipated

The steamer Princess Beatrice, which reached Esquimalt on Sunday towed by the steamer Salvor of the B. C. Salvage company which floated the vessel from Noble Island, was hauled out on the ways of the B. C. Marine railway company yesterday. The injuries received by the C.P.R. steamer were not as great as was anticipated. The damage is at the bow and stern only. When the Princess Beatrice struck the rocks she remained fast by the forefoot and when the tide fell her rudder post dropped on a small rock with the result that it was broken away with the rudder. The forefoot is smashed in, and part of the stem gone, and eight or nine planks are damaged near the bow. The B. C. Marine Railway company began the repairs yesterday and it is expected the steamer will be ready for service in about three weeks time. Meanwhile the steamer Princess Mary is filling her service and the steamer Princess Royal, which reached Vancouver yesterday from Skagway, is replacing the Charmer on the Vancouver-Nanaimo route while that steamer runs to Comox in the place of the Princess Mary.

AUSTRALIAN LINERS MAY USE OIL FUEL

Engineer of Union Steamship Company Reaches San Francisco to Make Investigation of Oil Supply

The steamships Makura and Marama of the Canadian-Australian line may be converted into oil burners, and also all the other vessels of the Union Steamship company of New Zealand operated between Australia and America. Among the passengers on the Matson liner Wilhelmina to San Francisco on Thursday was Mr. J. Dunlop, engineer of the Union Steamship company of New Zealand. He is in San Francisco to inspect oil-burning appliances. It is said that a favorable report from him will mean the installation of oil burning engines on all of the Union Steamship company's vessels crossing the Pacific.

On her return from the next trip north the steamer Prince George of the G. T. P. will be withdrawn to be converted into an oil burner, and when the steamer Princess Alice of the C. P. R., the latest addition to the fleet [illegible]

TUG SUNK BY THE IROQUOIS

Seattle Steamer Collided with the Noname on Sunday Afternoon—Crew Save Themselves Over the Bow

On arrival yesterday afternoon the steamer Iroquois, Captain Carter, of the Puget Sound Navigation company, reported having collided with and sunk the tug Noname of Vancouver during thick fog at 4.30 p.m. Sunday off the Fraser river. Capt. J. Barberis, master and part owner, and his crew of eight scrambled up over the bow of the Iroquois and the Noname foundered in eight minutes. The crew lost all their belongings, and had it not been that the Iroquois was kept fast in the big hole made in the tug some of them would probably have lost their lives.

Captain Carter of the Iroquois said: "We had just sheered off to pass another tug we met in a thick bank of fog about 4.30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon as we were abreast of the mouth of the Fraser river on our way from Seattle to that port when we sighted the Noname with a scow laden with a donkey boiler in tow, almost under our bow. Collision could not be averted. We crashed into the tug about amidships, just abaft the smokestack, our bow going about half way through her hull. When those on the Noname saw that the Iroquois would cut into their vessel they rushed to the bow to escape the flying timbers. The Iroquois was pushed ahead, the bow being kept butting into the hole made in the tug's side, until those on the Noname could clamber up ladders and lines heaved to them and when all were safe on board the Iroquois backed off and the Noname foundered in a cloud of steam. Passengers on the Iroquois crowded out to watch the episode."

The boats of the Iroquois were manned, and one was lowered to see if any flotsam could be recovered. It was thought that the hawser, which was about sixty fathoms long, would have remained fast to the tug, and this could then have been buoyed and the place marked, but when the drifting scow was picked up it was found that the line was broken. The scow was taken in tow by the Iroquois and taken to Vancouver.

The Noname went down in 65 fathoms of water, and it is improbable that any attempt will be made to raise the vessel. The tug was built by the Wallace shipyards at North Vancouver about three years ago. When she was launched the owners sent several applications to Ottawa for names, but each was refused as a similar name was in use, and the owners then decided to christen the vessel the Noname. For some time the tug was used at Prince Rupert by the Prince Rupert Tie and Timber company. She was then taken over by G. I. Wilson of Vancouver, who sold her some months ago to Capt. Barberis and associates.

The Noname was en route from Vancouver to Salt Spring Island.

MASSET LAUNCH LOST

Crew of Five Men Had Narrow Escape When Queen Mary Struck Rock off Metlakatla

News was brought by the Vadso of the wreck of the gasoline launch Queen Mary of Massett off Metlakatla, and the narrow escape of five men on board. The small craft, owned by the Entwhistle brothers of Massett was returning there from Prince Rupert when she struck a rock and flooded, and was afterwards beached with loss of half her freight. In the effort to save the launch one of the brothers, R. B. Entwhistle, had to swim ashore with a rope at some risk in the darkness, and all on board the wrecked launch were wet through when they landed on the small uninhabited island off Metlakatla. Here they endeavored to make themselves comfortable for the night, managing to light two fires with the only two dry matches they possessed. They had no shelter, and spent the better part of the night searching along the shore to save cases of gasoline which had gone overboard when the launch swamped.

On board the vessel were R. W. and R. C. Entwhistle, A. Munro and two Indians, Mark Spence and Robert Brown.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT CHRIST CHURCH

Large Congregations Attend Special Services and Hear Appropriate Sermon at Cathedral

Harvest festival services were held on Sunday at Christ church cathedral, where large congregations gathered both in the morning and evening.

The decorations, which had been in the hands of the ladies of the Chancel Guild, were most artistically and beautifully carried out, and it is doubtful if the old church ever presented a more picturesque appearance. The font was arranged with white chrysanthemums and autumnal leaves and the chancel screen with yellow and white chrysanthemums and sheaves of wheat and oats, and rosy apples, the completing touch being given by tall sheaves of pampas grass arranged high on either side of the entrance. Both the chapel and organ screens were decorated with red and white dahlias, chrysanthemums, ferns and wheat, while the pulpit, which was perhaps the most beautiful of all, was massed with red and green leaves amid which gleamed bunches of purple grapes.

At the morning service the processional hymn sung was the old favorite, "Come, ye thankful people, come," the two others being, "Praise O praise, our God and King" and "The Sower went forth sowing." Rev. William Barton preached an appropriate sermon, taking as his text Psalm 105, v. 1, "O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon His Name; make known His deeds among the people." Very Rev. Dean Doull was the preacher at the evening service, and based an impressive harvest thanksgiving sermon on Ephesians 5, vers 20, "Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

PRINCESS ALICE AT MONTEVIDEO

New C. P. R. Steamer Called at Uruguayan Port on Sunday—Alterations to Queen Alexandra

The steamer Princess Alice, built for the Victoria-Vancouver service of the C. P.R., at the yards of Swan Hunter & Wigham Richardson at Newcastle-on-Tyne, reached Montevideo on Sunday on her way to this port, according to a cable message received by Capt. J. W. Troup superintendent of the B. C. Coast steamship service of the C.P.R. The Princess Alice coaled at the Uruguayan port and proceeded to Coronel, where she will call for coal and will proceed from there to San Diego, her last coaling point on the way here.

The fast turbine steamer Queen Alexandra, bought by the C. P. R. for passenger service between Vancouver and Nanaimo, is completing repairs in consequence of the fire on board, and is being altered to suit the requirements of the new service under the supervision of Mr. Alexander, assistant superintendent engineer of the B. C. coast steamship service of the C. P. R. The contract for the work has been awarded to Scott's Shipbuilding and Engineering company of Greenock, and will cost between $40,000 and $45,000, the bulk of the expense falling upon the underwriters. The steamer is expected to be ready to leave Greenock about the middle of next month and will arrive here early in January.

The freight and passenger steamer being built by the firm of Bow McLachlan & Co., at Paisley, for the B. C. coast steamship service of the C. P. R., is nearing completion, and word of her launching is expected shortly. This vessel will be of about 1,200 tons register, and will probably be used in the northern service to take the place of the Amur, which has been laid up at Esquimalt for some time.

READY FOR LAUNCHING

New Tug Beatrice Being Built on Turpel's Ways Is Nearly Completed

The tug Beatrice, being built on Turpel's ways for the Michigan-Puget Sound Lumber Company, is nearly ready for launching, and is expected to take the water during this week. The tug, a vessel about eighty feet in length, is being built to take the place of the former Beatrice, owned by the company, and the engines of that vessel will be placed in the new hull. The machinery was taken from the old Barbara Boscowitz, one of the pioneer coasting steamers, and was placed in the hull of the sealing schooner Beatrice, which was converted into a tugboat by Capt. Berquist, of Sidney, and sold by him to the lumber company.

Dredger to Overhaul

The dredger Ajax will be hauled out today on the ways of the Victoria Machinery Depot to have a general overhaul.

Crystal Theatre—The feature of all features is at the Crystal Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, "The White Slave Traffic" three thousand feet of moving pictures fully described by a renowned lecturer as they are shown. "The White Slave" traffic has been the topic of discussion for months past throughout the civilised world, and these pictures taken in different parts of the country tell the story as no word could tell. These pictures have just had a run of three weeks in Vancouver, and have been commented upon by both press and public as the biggest thing ever shown in moving pictures dealing with one of the most appalling situations with which the public mind has ever been confronted. In addition to this big feature which is a show in itself, we are adding a special attraction to fill in the intermissions of Rio and Walters, the Musical Fiends, in their high class musical vaudeville act, introducing guitars, mandolins, novelty banjos and Swiss Hand Bell ringing. This will give you an hour and twenty minutes of solid enjoyment for the same price of admission, ten cents. Wednesday night the amateurs will be seen in addition to this. Watch this space for more announcements.

PRINCE RUPERT DELAYED BY FOG

Vadso, Princess Royal and Cetriana Start from the North—S. S. Venus and Vadso Sail

Delayed by thick fog the steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Johnson, of the G. T. P., did not reach port until Sunday afternoon, having been delayed by fog encountered on the way south and at Vancouver where she was held until 6 a. m. The Prince Rupert brought a good complement of passengers south, and had a small list northbound when she sailed yesterday morning. Those who embarked here were W. W. Foster, deputy minister of agriculture, bound to Stewart; H. Ride and George Heatherbell of Metlakatla.

The steamer Vadso of the Boscowitz Steamship Company, which brought 17,000 cases of canned salmon and 14 passengers from the north reached the Evans, Coleman & Evans wharf yesterday morning from Naas and way ports. She left again for the north last night.

The Cetriana of the Northern Steamship company reached Vancouver yesterday morning with a big shipment of salmon, and is to sail for the north tonight. When at Prince Rupert there was a dispute between Capt. Richardson and the G. T. P. officials regarding the hiring of longshoreman. The Prince Rupert News says Capt. Richardson insisted that he should hire his own men, while the G. T. P. officials insisted that the men of the Pacific Coast Stevedoring company be employed, and a writ was served on Capt. Richardson by the sheriff. The News says: "After the G. T. P. had arranged for the writ to be served amusing efforts were made to effect the legal formality. When the sheriff sought the skipper, he was no where to be found. The first mate, too, was missing, and the second had nothing to do with the business in question. So the sheriff served the writ upon a heap of coal, and the men gleefully dumped another bucketful upon it, burying it out of sight. So say the waterfront wags at any rate. Sheriff Shirley's version is that the matter is entirely private, and that he served the writ by placing it in one of the vessel's coal buckets."

CLAIM HEAVY SALVAGE

Salvors of the Tug Hunter Ask $27,000 for Services Rendered to Vessel

Heavy salvage is claimed by the owners of the tug Monaghan for services rendered to the tug Hunter which was found in a sinking condition and towed to the south end of Whidby Island. The salvors ask $27,000, which is stated to be fifty percent. of the value of the vessel and her cargo of canned salmon.

After a week's work by divers the Hunter has been floated and was towed to Seattle yesterday. The Hunter listed and turned over on her side when picked up by the Monaghan, which towed her a mile to beach her. It was on October 15th that Capt. Wright of the Monaghan sighted the Hunter rocking in the heavy gale that prevailed, and saw her when she listed to port and turned over on her side. He headed for the vessel and came alongside. Passengers and crew, including the wife and children of Captain Forbes of the Hunter, were taken ashore in life boats, and Capt. Wright threw the Hunter a line and towed her out of 400 feet of water and beached her safely.

Scows and a diver's crew were sent to the rescue, and on Saturday she was righted, made tight and the water pumped out of her. She suffered little damage, the greatest being limited to the woodwork of her upper decks.

DIRIGO'S FIRST TRIP

The steamer Dirigo, the latest addition to the fleet of freight steamers plying to Victoria from Puget Sound points, reached the G. T. P. wharf yesterday morning and discharged a large amount of cargo including a big shipment of creosoted conduits for the B. C. Telephone company. The Dirigo was formerly used in the Alaska service and has not visited Victoria for many years. She was one of the vessels which came during the Klondike rush to carry prospectors north. The steamer is operated with the Edith by the Sound Packet Steamship line in a twice-a-week service from Tacoma and Seattle to Victoria and Vancouver. This company works in opposition to the line operated by Dodwell & Co. with the steamer Fulton, which returned on Saturday after being extensively overhauled for this trade.

The steamer Dirigo, recently taken over by the Sound Packet Steamship company, was leaving Victoria harbor at six o'clock last evening when she went ashore on Pin Rock, just inside the Yacht club's premises. The vessel was standing over to allow the C.P.R. steamer to pass, when the accident occurred. She will probably be floated off at high water today.

George M. Ellis, the aviator, is tempting to fly from Vancouver to Calgary, will take a course carrying him over North Bend, Kamloops, Sicamous, Glacier, Golden, and Banff.

Fit-rite

An Outward Sign of Inward Quality

The splendid appearance of a "Fit-rite" suit is the result of the careful, honest way in which it is made. A handsome outward appearance is of no value, unless it has the sterling material underneath to back it up.

It is the care taken in this particular that makes the "Fit-rite" a good suit all through. The hidden parts are given the same attention the surface receives. It retains its shape because the shape and style are built right into it.

Look over a "Fit-rite" suit and examine the quality of the material and tailoring. It is an honest effort to supply good clothes at a reasonable price.

Either call at the store or send us a post card bearing your name and address, and we'll give you a copy of "The Style Forecast," containing the latest views of fashion authorities for the coming fall and winter.

TO HAVE STRONG SOCCER ELEVEN

Thanksgiving Day Will See Fast Local Professional Soccer Eleven Line-up Here Against Cumberland.

Professional association football will be introduced in Victoria on Monday, the 30th inst. (Thanksgiving Day.) A number of local sportsmen have taken up the project with a degree of enthusiasm and determination that augurs success. Mr. Dougan, who will be remembered as the North Ward goalkeeper of last season, has been appointed manager and he states that the opening local match between Victoria and Cumberland, which takes place in this city on the date indicated, will open the eyes of those followers of the game who have been watching local amateur fixtures for the past five or six years.

Those who were here in the days of the old Garrison and Victoria-United teams, when the rivalry between the citizens and the military forces was so keen that the sparks flew whenever they came together, and when the soldiers had an eleven that won as often as not from the locals, are looking forward to a repetition of this class of argument. That they will get what they are expecting is confidently believed. The home eleven will be one of the fastest in British Columbia. This is an honest statement made after a close investigation of the material assembled by Messrs. Dougan, Sullivan and others interested.

In Tommy Millar, the international fullback, they have secured a tower of strength for the defence. That was all that was wanted to balance the aggregation evenly. When the official announcement is made as to the team's personnel all local enthusiasts will bear out what has been said regarding the merit of the players chosen. They are entering into training with a thoroughness which has been altogether lacking in football players heretofore.

On Thursday night they assembled at the Royal Athletic park for a run and a rubdown. They were out again for training on Saturday and Sunday.

ATHLETICS AND GIANTS ON TOES

World's Baseball Series Will be Resumed Today If Fair Weather Holds—Mathewson and Bender Pitch

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 23.—After it had been postponed for the fifth time, there is every indication tonight that the fourth game of the world's championship series between the New York Giants and the Athletics will be played tomorrow afternoon at Shibe park. The sun shone brightly all day, and put the playing field into fairly good condition. The diamond is in far better shape than the outfield, but a liberal use of huge sponges by a score of men partially cleared the outfield.

Both teams took advantage of the pleasant weather to prepare for what it is thought will be one of the most bitterly fought games of the series. Manager Mack had his men on the diamond at Shibe park for fully two hours, principally at the bat. With Danforth, Martin and Coombs serving up their benders, the players took their regular turns at batting.

Baker the Star

Baker, the sensation of the two victories scored by the Athletics, was the star in today's batting matinee. In five turns at bat he thrice drove the ball into the enclosure between the temporary low wooden fence and the right field wall, and later sent the ball over the right field fence.

Bender and Plank warmed up with Thomas and Lapp on the receiving end. When the batting practice had nearly concluded, Mack sent Coombs in to pitch to Lapp.

Manager McGraw had his Giants out for a lengthy practice at the National league grounds. He followed practically the same line of play adopted by the Athletics' manager. With Ames, Crandall and Wiltse pitching, the New York players got in some fine batting practice.

Mathewson and Marquard warmed up with Chief Meyers. Both of the National league stars seemed to be in splendid shape. Mathewson did not attempt to use all his speed, but occasionally would shoot a fast one over.

"Matty" vs. Bender

While neither manager would state positively tonight, who would be their pitching selection for the fourth game, it is reasonably sure that Bender and Mathewson will again occupy the mound. [illegible]

"The Third Degree,"— Charles Klein's play to be offered at the Victoria Theatre, Friday, October 27, remains the triumphant public benefactor that it was recognised to be on its premier over a year ago. The play not only entertains its hearers, but it instructs the larger portion of its patrons in a harmful police practice of great interest to the commonwealth. The interested attitude of the majority of the audience toward "the third degree" scene tends to indicate how few really are familiar with that method of police enquiry laid bare by the author of play. Miss Franklyn Gale has made a great individual hit in the part of Anna Jeffries while Chas. Burnham, Harry Forsman, Kenneth Stuart, Wesley Tood, Neil Barrett and Miss Minnie Redcliffe have won deserved recognition in their respective parts.

ATHLETICS WILL WIN, SAYS CHASE

New York Americans' Manager Believes Connie Mack's Squad Strongest — Compares Players

Hal Chase, manager of the New York Americans, picks the Athletics to win the world's series. He says:

Two marvellous aggregations representing the pennant winners in the National League and the American organizations go to the mat on Saturday in what I would call the grand baseball derby, known to the baseball fans of the country as the world's series.

Last season the family of the keen-eyed Connie Mack had no trouble in crushing the Chicago Cubs and winning four out of five games.

I think the coming series will be an exceptional one and it would not surprise me if the decision went down to the seventh game. I have made it my busines to make a thorough study of each player who will work in the big set of games. I am going to compare each player to the best of my judgment, but before I start I want to say that I think the Athletics have a little shade on the Giants, and I pick them to win the great title.

I will start at first base. Fred Merkle, the man who failed to touch second, is no longer a bonehead. I think he is the most valuable first sacker in his league. His all-round work in the national this season has been remarkable.

Collins a Tower of Strength.

I think Merkle and McInnes are very evenly matched when it comes to the fielding end of the game. I also think that Merkle will run bases better than Stuffy, and may hit better in the big series, although McInnis in the American league hit for a better average than Merkle in the National. Merkle is a player who will strike out a couple of times during the game, but will come along with men on the bases and break a game up with a mighty wallop. He hits them hard. McInnis I might say is a newcomer. He is a small fellow for a first sacker, but a little fighter and will be on the move from bell to bell. So much for the first sackers.

Now we will move over to second base where we shall meet Larry Doyle, captain of the Giants, and Eddie Collins of the Athletics. I don't think Doyle classes with Collins as a fielder and a base runner although Larry is fast. Collins will hit well and so will Doyle. It's a toss as to how they will hit in the big games. Collins was a mighty big factor in the smashing of the Cubs last season. He looks to have a shade on pure mechanical ability. He is one of the best players we have in the major leagues today.

Banks on Barry at Short.

I think that Barry is the best shortstop in the major leagues. He can make all kinds of plays to the right, to the left and in deep field, and follows this up with good throws from any angle. He has more experience than Fletcher. The latter is a flashy shortstop. So is Barry. The latter isn't such a great hitter, but is one of these fellows who will come along and break up the game when it looks won by the other side. He had done this all season in the American League, and I look for him to pull some of this kind of work in the world's series.

I think Charlie Herzog is a better base runner than Baker. That is about the only thing in which he is superior to Baker. The latter is one of the hardest hitters in the game. He hits lefthanders as he does the righthanded flingers. Baker is fast and a wonderful man in the fielding end on all kinds of plays. He has been in a world's series, and will stand the test.

Athletics Outfield Better.

I think Danny Murphy will outclass anything McGraw has in the outfield. The veteran of the Athletics is a fine hitter and a good fielder, and is fast on the bases. He is another player who hits the ball hard, and can break up a game almost any old time. Nor must Muray be overlooked. He is also a dangerous man and hits nearly as hard as Murphy.

I think little speedy Josh Devore has it on Lord in everything except hitting. There is no doubt in my mind that he is a fast man and has the hook slide down to perfection, which will help him a great deal in his base running.

I don't think that Snodgrass can be put in the same class with Oldring. The "Rube" will hit and run bases with the best of them. The Giants' centre fielder seems to be there as a slugger. I look for Oldring to be one of the men to give the giants trouble at the bat and on bases.

Matty the King Pitcher.

I think that Matty is the greatest pitcher in the land. There is no doubt in my mind that he will be as great as ever when it comes to the test. I think that he will be the big factor in the series. Whether he is the great pitcher he was in 1905 remains to be seen. Some who have hit against him says he is not. Nevertheless he plays havoc with a strange team which has never hit against him and that's what he will do when he bends them over against the Athletics.

I would not be surprised to see Ames work in one of the games. Marquard is a good left-hander, but will be an uncertain quantity in the world's series.

Bender is also a great pitcher. He has speed and a fast curve, with which he can make the best of batters hop when he is right. He is a wonder when it comes to holding men on bases.

I might say, that Thomas and Meyers are on a par, but I think the chief will outhit the Athletic backstop.

Where McGraw is Strong.

In Connie Mack and McGraw the fans will get the best there is in baseballbrains. They are leaders of a different type. Mack runs his team with what we call the iron hand, but that same hand is covered with a soft glove. He has a sharpshooter's eye and never misses a trick.

McGraw will be there with the goods, and I think he will have a little advantage on Connie in that he will be on the coaching line. There is no more serious nor more conscientious worker than McGraw. He is aggressive and will be on the job all the time. Both are great leaders and never miss a trick, as I have said.

Luck counts in baseball, whether it's for the world's championship or a 10-cent ball. A boot by a player may toss away the championship. I do not think I will be far away when I say that it will be one of the best sets of games we have seen since teams in the American and National leagues have been battling for world's championships.

STEVENSON EASILY DEFEATS PETLEY

Vancouver Crack Billiard Player Falls Before British Champion in Handicap Match

VANCOUVER, Oct. 21.—Conceding his opponent, Frank Pettley, a claimant to the B. C. billiard championship, 500 points in a game of 1,000 up, H. W. Stevenson, holder of the world's title, ran out his string in an hour and a half last evening, while Pettley was scoring 218, the latter's final score being 718. It was a rare treat for Vancouver billiard enthusiasts, and they were out in force to watch the world's champion in his exhibition. Pettley was out of form, although making one or two good breaks during the course of the evening, but attention was centred on Stevenson, who showed himself to be a wizard with the cue on the green cloth. He made breaks of over 100 on four occasions, and finished the game with an unfinished break of 82. His best break was 175, the champion falling on what appeared to be a comparatively easy shot. On another occasion he ran up 141, scoring 129 off the red. His other high breaks were 138 and 135. It was indeed a pleasure to watch Stevenson at the table. He takes in the situation at a glance and some of his marvellous shots from seemingly impossible positions elicited rounds of applause. In making his break of 129 off the red he demonstrated the stroke that made George Gray, the Australian boy marvel, famous, and which is, perhaps the only effective stroke that the Australian possesses. Stevenson is undoubtedly in a class by himself at the all-round game, and he makes the most difficult shots look easy.

At the conclusion of his match with Pettley the champion and the local player indulged in a game of English snooker, Stevenson winning out, after which he gave an exhibition of fancy shots, his work with the balls being marvelous.

The champion will leave tomorrow morning for England, where he will defend his title this winter.

WOMEN'S WORK EXCHANGE HERE

Industrial Co-Operative Organization to be Operated on a Business Basis Formed by Group of Local Ladies

A Women's Industrial Exchange was duly formed yesterday afternoon at the Alexandra club building.

Mrs. Hasell presided at the meeting which was called to order promptly at 3 o'clock, and there were present Mrs. McMicking, Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. Richards, Miss Crease, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Priestly, Mrs. Connor, Mrs. J. P. Napier, Mrs. A. T. Gillies, Mrs. Scriven, Mrs. Monteith, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. A. F. Gibson, Mrs. F. J. Hutchins, Mrs. Anthony, Mrs. A. Kuhle, Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. H. Wise and Mrs. H. C. Ferree.

Mrs. Halliday in a very brief and business-like speech laid the plan of the society before the meeting. She proposed that the women of Victoria shall own and manage the Women's Industrial Exchange, working on the lines adopted by a co-operative society's, pointing out that united effort was far more likely to command success than private enterprise. It was necessary under the laws of the province that seven persons should be ready to attest before a notary their wish to form a co-operative association in order that further steps should be taken to engage in business. Mrs. Halliday suggested that shares should be taken at $5, that not less than one share nor more than fifty should be held by one person and that after working expenses were deducted each shareholder should receive a dividend on the capital and a dividend in proportion to the amount expended in purchases during the previous quarter.

These suggestions were adopted and the exchange formed, fifty shares being taken by the ladies present.

Mrs. H. Wise moved and Mrs. Ferree seconded a resolution that an organising committee be formed which was done. The members chosen were Mrs. McMicking, Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Gillis, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Scriven, Mrs. Van Sant, Mrs. Ferree, Miss Crease, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Napier, Mrs. Henry Bell, Mrs. Anthony and Mrs. Priestly. The necessary legal business was done after the meeting adjourned by Mr. Lindley Crease.

Vancouver ratepayers will shortly be asked to sanction a loan of $550,000 to provide a new Bridge over False Creek.

OAK BAY'S CENSUS

Council of Municipality Decides to Hold a Census of Its Own Despite Official Count

The Oak Bay municipality will take its own census independent of the Dominion government, despite the fact that the official figures have not reached the municipal offices yet. Such was definitely decided at the regular meeting of the council held last night, after considerable discussion. The estimated census of Oak Bay is 2,000 inhabitants and there are in the neighborhood of 484 dwellings in the up-to-date district.

In introducing the scheme in support of a report from a committee meeting held last week, Councillor McGregor said that the idea had been to take the census at the same time that an inspection was being made of the dwellings of the district to ascertain if they (the dwellings) complied with the building bylaw. He believed that the scheme was a good one and felt that it would check the work done by the Dominion government.

Reeve Henderson did not see where there was any need of introducing such before the Dominion results were known and he felt that it would necessitate hiring a number of men. Councillor McGregor explained that should it cost a large sum he would not be in favor of taking a census, but as the other work must be done it amounted to the same thing to get the number of persons residing in each household visited.

Councillor Lindley inquired how many water meters there were in the district and was informed that there were about 500. The Dominion government census, it is rumored, gives the thriving little district only 1400 souls.

Councillor Noble suggested that it be laid over for a while to wait until the official count was announced, but Councillor McGregor quickly replied that if that were to be done, it might as well be laid over for six months. He believed that Oak Bay should be independent.

Reeve Henderson then fell in with the idea, stating that if the count was to be taken, it must be done properly.

The matter was carried unanimously and the clerk, Mr. Floyd, was instructed to proceed with the census immediately, with the assistance of the police constables, who will select a census enumerator.

The census form drawn up and which must be filled out contains the following questions and it would greatly help the municipality if they be answered and held ready for the enumerator when he calls.

OAK BAY HUNTERS

Firearm Bylaw Likely to be Amended in Effort to Reduce Careless Use of Weapons

At the next meeting of the Oak Bay council the fire-arm bylaw is to be subjected to an amendment, which may mean that hunting will be restricted to only a very few certain parts of the district, and that all huntsmen will not have to carry a permit, but a license. Such was the gist of the discussion at the close of the Oak Bay council meeting last night, when Councillor Noble gave notice of a motion to amend the bylaw.

Many of the councillors made complaints that the shooting in the district was becoming not only too careless, but in many cases the law of securing a permit was being evaded. The fact remains that a constable must catch a hunter in the act of discharging his gun before an arrest can be made, but the bylaw will receive considerable change, if possible, to make the offense a little more serious than it now appears to be.

In the meantime the constables have been instructed to use the utmost vigilance in enforcing the bylaw.

LOS ANGELES TRIAL

Ruling of Judge May Expedite Task of Selecting a Jury

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 31.—Legal machinery in the McNamara murder trial revolted to such effect today that at close of court a problem, which had been bothering everybody concerned since the first day of the trial was solved, in the opinion of counsel, and five talesmen were excused for various reasons. The empty jury box was filled up again, and only ten men of the original venire of 125 were left outside it.

By denying a challenge of the defense against Talesman George W. McKee, based on the ground that while McKee had no prejudice against James B. McNamara, the defendant, he believed the Los Angeles Times was blown up by dynamite. The ruling was based on the court's belief that in spite of McKee's opinion he could and would be a fair juror. Of this, the court is the sole judge. It was the position of the defence under Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, that an opinion such as McKee held was in itself evidence that he could not be impartial in hearing evidence concerning McNamara, who is on trial for the murder of Charles J. Haggerty, a machinist killed in the Times disaster. Whether other jurors of McKee's frame of mind would be disqualified depended, the court pointed out, upon the individual instances and not upon a general ruling.

The defense held that under its contention that the Times explosion was caused by gas a man ought to believe that theory or none at all to be an impartial juror, and after the court had announced his ruling, McNamara's counsel still argued earnestly against it.

Talesmen H. C. Nevins and [illegible] were excused on the [illegible] tions that they would not render a verdict of guilty in a murder case on circumstantial evidence. Later in the day Willis F. Oliver and Z. C. Thompson were excused because each was opposed to the death penalty under any codes. H. C. NEW YORK STOCK MARKET LISTLESS

U. S. Steel Most Active, Displaying Effective Resistance to Bear Attacks—Bonds Quiet and Irregular

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Prices barely moved through most of today's session of the stock exchange. The market was dull and listless and in the absence of any inducements for speculative operations trading was light. London sent over a somewhat lower range of prices before the opening and this fact, coupled with moderate pressure from professional traders, caused slight recessions in the early trading. The market rallied briskly and held firm until shortly before the close when a final drive eliminated most of the moderate gains which had been made.

Reading showed the greatest strength of any of the leading stocks. Chesapeake and Ohio recovered part of the loss which it sustained last week upon publication of an unfavorable annual report, and Norfolk and Western also moved upward. United States Steel was again the most active, and displayed effective resistance to bear attacks. The day's trade reports indicated that incoming orders were smaller than a week ago notwithstanding that prices of many products are at almost the lowest level of a decade.

Perhaps the most significant event of the day was the announcement that a large part of a $250,000,000 loan for the Prussian government was to be placed here in the form of 4½ per cent six months treasury bills. As compared with the rate of payment on the Prussian loans, fund for six months were quoted here today at 5% per cent. A moderate increase was reported in the mercantile demand for money both locally and in the interior. Foreign exchange rates held steady.

The bond market was quiet and irregular. Total sales (par value) $2,100,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.
